HISTORY

Middlebury College was not founded to give voice to any special religious, social, or political creed. It was indigenous, a product of 19th century democracy, financed from the thin purses of local citizens, and expressive of multiform culture brought from southern New England.

A miller, two lawyers, a doctor, and a President of Yale University conceived the first plan for Middlebury College on the night of September 30, 1798. The miller was Gamaliel Painter, whose name the oldest college building in Vermont still bears; the lawyers, Seth Storrs, donor of the campus of the men's college, and Samuel Miller who entertained the group at this original meeting; the doctor, Darius Matthews, a probate judge as well as physician; and the Yale President, the great Timothy Dwight.

Some thirty log cabins and frame houses, surrounded by wilderness, comprised the settlement at Middlebury in 1798. No road had yet been built to the pioneer village. The State of Vermont as a part of the Union was only seven years old and its Legislature still roved from town to town for its annual meeting. Grist and saw mills, a few shops for mechanics and blacksmiths, a rough inn, and a brewery offered the principal commercial accent to the village. A church had not even been constructed. Still the establishment of a college as well as a grammar school seemed imperative to these immigrants from Connecticut.

President Dwight, in his visit of a single night, helped to outline a plan for procedure, but it took two years to persuade the Legislature that the request for founding a college in this wilderness should be honored. A charter was finally granted on November 1, 1800, and Jeremiah Atwater, a Yale graduate, appointed President; then breaking all precedent for haste, seven students were admitted the following day and Middlebury was under way, lodged in a building just completed for the Addison County Grammar School. President Atwater and one tutor comprised the entire administrative and teaching staff. And under them the first student graduated in August, 1802.

Greek and Latin were the pièce de resistance of the curriculum in those early years. Mathematics—ranging from "vulgar arithmetic" to trigonometry,— history, geography, natural philosophy, astronomy, rhetoric, law, logic, metaphysics, and ethics rounded out a four-year program, with vocational purpose noted in such courses as navigation and surveying. A disciplinary system based on the temper of the law of Moses and the text of Yale College rules and regulations kept a student's nose to the academic grindstone. As occasion for new rules of conduct arose, they were properly phrased, and appropriate fines attached: fifty cents for gambling, intemperance, or dancing; two cents for chapel absence; twelve cents for possessing firearms; for dog-earing a library book one cent; or twenty-five cents for re-lending a library book. Students were their own janitors, laid their own hearth fires, lugged their water from out-door cisterns, often cooked their own meals. Daily chapel prayers before dawn began the day and a daily chapel service at dusk ended it.

Under Jeremiah Atwater, whose fame for scholarship and discipline spread abroad, Middlebury was not slow in growth and that growth continued under his successors Henry Davis (1809-1817), and Joshua Bates (1818-1839). After an extended debate over whether the future College should be located on Mt. Nebo (Chipman Hill), Aqueduct Hill, near the present Country Club, or on Storrs Hill, the latter was finally chosen and New College, or Painter Hall, was built in 1815 by Middlebury citizens, each contributing his quota of lumber, nails, glass, hardware and cartage.

The stone chapel was added in 1836, the peak year of enrollment during the century. In those thirty-six years, the College had grown nearly to the size of Harvard and with a comparable reputation. But during that year when success seemed most phenomenal, progress was suddenly stunted by awkward and blundering conflict over religious status. From a local dispute it flared into a County and State-wide controversy. The College came to be known as a stronghold of a new kind of radical evangelism. In three years nearly two-thirds of the students left.

Benjamin Labaree stepped into this situation in 1840 and for twenty-six years labored to build up the enrollment and financial standing. He pushed through several successful drives; Starr Hall was built in 1861 and rebuilt after a disastrous fire during the Christmas holidays of 1864. The College was beginning to regain its rank of the '30's when the Civil War thoroughly undid most of his constructive labors.

During the less successful administrations of Harvey D. Kitchel (1866-1873), Calvin D. Hulbert (1875-1880), and Cyrus Hamlin, (1880-1885), the registration wavered from the low sixties into the fifties and forties, touching a low of thirty-eight students in 1882. From that date to the present the trend has been upward almost annually.

Ezra Brainerd, who stepped from a professorship of Physics and Applied Mathematics to the presidency in 1885, did much to raise the scholastic standards of the College.

"My ideal of a college," he asserted, "is one that insists on a complete symmetrical knowledge of the fundamental laws of all nature, a comprehensive survey of the best in all literature, and a general acquaintance with the great principles that should regulate all human conduct. . . ."

Working on a platform that stressed scholarship he built up Middlebury from a struggling institution of little scholastic stamina and an enrollment of forty-four to an influential college of well over two hundred. Under him the Starr Library (1900) and Warner Science Hall (1901) were constructed and the building program which he started was continued on a much larger scale by his successor, John M. Thomas (1908-1921).

Women were admitted in 1883, but there was no campus dormitory for them until Pearsons Hall was constructed in 1911. Afraid that Middlebury might become land bound like many other colleges, President Thomas secured the acres on which the athletic field and women's campus are now located. The McCullough Gymnasium (1910), the Chemistry Building (1913), Hepburn Hall (1916) and the Mead Chapel (1916) were built in succession under his plan for expansion. One of his greatest contributions was making friends for the College, who contributed liberally of their wealth. Joseph Battell, who at his death left his mountain estate to Middlebury, is to be numbered foremost among these.

In 1921 Thomas turned over to President Paul D. Moody a College of nearly five hundred students, double the number in 1908, as well as a College immeasurably more wealthy in endowment and buildings.

From the day of his inauguration, Dr. Moody stressed Scholarship, not Numbers. The registration has increased appreciably, but it has been strictly limited, keeping a fine balance between the enrollment and equipment, staff, dormitories, and endowment. The Château (1925), the Music Studio (1925), Hospital (1925), two new wings on the Library (1928) and the new women's dormitory (1936) are the principal additions in buildings made during this administration.

The specialized summer schools have grown from the modest beginning of a German session with a handful of students in 1915, to schools of French, Spanish, Italian, German and English with a total enrollment almost as large as that of the regular session. A Music Center affiliated with the language schools was established in 1938.

GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE

Heredity and environment inevitably play a large part in giving character to any college. Scholastic traditions built up over a period of 138 years contribute much to the present. Middlebury has always been a liberal arts college, and it has adapted this traditional thesis to modern education; its faculty, curriculum, and society are now organized to provide students with a comprehensive and balanced knowledge of the sciences, language and literature, history and philosophy, social, political and economic institutions. A three-fold program for each student is stressed: intensive work in one field of planned study, in which a student takes a comprehensive examination during the senior year; a survey of many subjects as they relate to this field of concentration; the study of definitely cultural courses to give breadth and perspective. Middlebury has no vocational or professional schools. The one undergraduate degree is Bachelor of Arts. However, a cooperative plan with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology enables students wishing specialized and advanced scientific training, as well as the liberal education, to spend three years at Middlebury followed by two at the Institute. At the end of this period of five years the degrees from both institutions are conferred.

Middlebury College admits men only; the affiliated Women's College of Middlebury is on an adjacent campus. A number of classes and organizations, however, are coeducational.

The College is non-sectarian, but fosters the tradition of Christian faith and sincere moral purpose established by the founders. Students are required to attend the daily chapel services led by the President and the Sunday vesper services conducted by men of eminence in various denominations and the President.

The limited size of the College is largely responsible for a strong democratic spirit among both faculty and students. Instructors and administrative officers welcome calls from students either at their offices or in their homes. The President cordially invites student consultation on any subject.

LOCATION AND CAMPUS

The College is located on a hill overlooking a typical central Vermont village, a wide sweep of the Champlain Valley, the Green Mountains to the east and the Adirondacks across Lake Champlain to the west. The campus is the largest of any college in the world, with about 250 acres for buildings, athletic grounds, and Otter Creek shore line, and a mountain campus of 15,000 acres including some of the highest peaks in the State. The United States Government has taken over the title to an adjacent area formerly owned by the College, as part of the Green Mountain National Forest. Both tracts are used by students for outings, winter sports, and week-end trips to lodges. Middlebury is one of the winter sports centers of New England. The annual carnival is held during February on Chipman Hill where a 30 metre jump, ideal slalom and downhill courses and a toboggan run have been developed. The Porter Athletic Field, situated southeast of the main campus, contains about eighty acres, with baseball and football fields, quarter-mile track, grandstand, and a special field for freshman athletics. On payment of a nominal semester fee students are permitted to use the nine-hole Middlebury Country Club Golf Course.

VOCATIONAL PREPARATION

The earlier in life that the average person can correctly decide upon the bent of his life work the more successful he is likely to be, since more time and thought can be spent on his cultural and specialized preparation. With this in mind a prospective college student or under-classman should study with some care the Middlebury Bulletin "To College With a Purpose." This booklet outlines desirable high school and college courses for some sixty careers such as the following: Accounting, Advertising, Architecture, Athletic Coaching, Banking, Broadcasting, Business Administration, Chemical Engineering, Dentistry, Diplomacy, Dramatics, Educational Administration, Engineering, Foreign Trade, Forestry, Hotel Work, Journalism, Law, Library Work, Medicine, Ministry, Musical Directing, Psychiatry, Public Administration, Settlement Work and Teaching.

Emphasis is placed upon organizing the student curriculum with the later professional work in mind. In addition, a vocational guidance program includes: special library service, consultation with departmental advisers, and cooperation of an undergraduate committee. Men of prominence in various important occupations have been brought to Middlebury for lectures and conferences on their fields and, through cooperation with the Bureau of Education and Vocation of the University Club of Boston, the counseling and placement services of its director, Mr. Stanley C. Lary, are available for Middlebury men. The office of the Director of Admissions and Personnel of the College has files of the catalogues and special announcements of graduate and professional schools and maintains contacts with professional, business, and industrial interests.

BUILDINGS

Most of the college buildings are constructed of gray limestone or white marble, colonial in architecture and consistent with the extensive campus and mountain setting. Administrative and faculty offices are located on the first floor of Painter Hall and in the Old Chapel. Class rooms for many of the language and social science departments are also in the Old Chapel building. The Departments of Chemistry and Mathematics are in the Chemistry Building and the other science departments in Warner Science Hall. A small Museum of Natural History is also in this building. In the Starr Library are reading, lecture, periodical, reserve and fine arts rooms. Students have free access to the main stacks which carry about 100,000 volumes. The private library of Dr. Julian W. Abernethy, containing one of the finest collections of American Literature in the country, is in the east wing of the building. There are also rooms for seminars, typewriting, the Sheldon Coin Collection, Middleburiana and local history. The headquarters for the Department of Music are in the Music Building, where private studios for vocal and instrumental practice as well as a hall for Glee Club, Band and Choir rehearsals are located. Curricular and extra-curricular work connected with play production is carried on in the Playhouse on Weybridge Street. In the McCullough Gymnasium are a basketball court, auditorium, handball and squash courts, locker rooms, and offices for the Director of Athletics and his assistants. All classes in Physical Education are held in the Gymnasium. Recitation rooms of the French Department, the office of the Dean of the French School and the Library are on the first floor of the Château. Daily assembly and Sunday Vespers are held in Mead Memorial Chapel, a colonial white marble structure of the New England meeting-house type.

DORMITORY ROOMS

Painter, Starr, and Hepburn Halls are the three main dormitories. All rooms are provided with single beds, mattresses, desks, chiffoniers, and chairs. Bedding, pillows and other accessories are furnished by occupants. The charge of $100 to $150 a year, depending on locality and size of suite, includes janitor service, heat, and a limited amount of electricity determined by monthly meter readings. Two students occupy each suite of two or three rooms, though there are single rooms in Painter Hall. Each suite in Hepburn Hall is connected with a toilet room. Showers are conveniently located in all dormitories.

The Freshman Commons and men's social rooms are located in Hepburn Hall. All members of the freshman class are required to board at the Commons and through a plan for rotation of seating, opportunity is offered for meeting classmates. The Commons is managed by the college Dietitian and the Matron and Superintendent of Dormitories has her home in this Hall. A limited number of men whose qualifications for speaking French are approved by the Dean of the French School may take their meals at the Château.

In assigning rooms, preference is given to students in College in order of classes. A drawing for rooms is held early in May, and a $5 advance payment on room rent must be made to the Dean at that time. Incoming students desiring rooms may secure reservations by sending the $5 advance deposit to the Director of Admissions and Personnel. No reservations may be cancelled after August 1 without forfeiture of the deposit. Students reserving rooms are responsible for the year's rent. All rooms are assigned subject to the regulations of the College as to student residences, and occupants are liable for any damage to the dormitory and its furnishings. The halls are ready for occupancy by students on the first day of registration following the summer vacation period. The Dean or a duly designated representative of the College has the right to inspect at any time rooms occupied by students.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Opportunities for hearing musicians, lecturers, and entertainers of wide reputation are provided by such organizations as the College Entertainment Committee, the Liberal Club, and the Abernethy Library. Robert Frost, Dorothy Thompson, John Mason Brown, The Westminster Choir, Hart House String Quartet, Myra Hess, Kathryn Meisle, Rollo Walter Brown, Bernard DeVoto, Ralph Kirkpatrick, Stuart Chase, and the Barrère String Ensemble are representative of those who have recently appeared. In addition, there are weekly "Twilight" musicals, Dramatic Club productions, the annual concerts of the Combined Glee Clubs, Choral Society, and Orchestra, and the special seasonal music of the Choir.

The undergraduate organizations at Middlebury include: Athletic Council, Band, Black Panther Serenaders, Blue Key, Choir, Debating Team, Der Deutche Verein, El Club Espanol, English Club, Glee Club, Campus Association, Interfraternity Council, Le Cercle Francais, Liberal Club, Mountain Club, Orchestra, Phi Beta Kappa, Student Council, Undergraduate Association, Varsity "M" Club, Waubanakee. There are seven Greek-letter social fraternities: Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Kappa, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Delta Rho, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Periodicals edited and managed by students are: Middlebury Campus, the weekly newspaper; Saxonian, quarterly literary magazine; Kaleidoscope, College year book, published in May; Handbook, annual information booklet for Freshmen.

Competent athletic coaching is provided for both Varsity and freshman sports. Intramural games are arranged, including interclass and interfraternity contests in basketball, baseball, track, winter sports, golf, and tennis. Skiing, snowshoeing, and hockey are special features of the winter season. One semester's residence is required before students are permitted to represent the College in varsity contests. A fund now amounting to $118,900 was established by the late Hon. A. Barton Hepburn for the promotion of major sports. The Director of Athletics, together with the Athletic Council, composed of members of the faculty, alumni, and students, has general supervision over all sports. The College does not assume legal responsibility for the expense in caring for injuries sustained by student athletes, while training for or participating in athletic competition. It has been the policy, however, to pay for expenses within reasonable limitations determined by the Athletic Council. Middlebury supports varsity teams in football, baseball, cross-country, hockey, tennis, golf, basketball, track and winter sports.

HEALTH MEASURES

The College aims to investigate and care for the health of each student as far as possible. The Department of Physical Education commands the services of a professor and assistants. Prescribed work in physical education and hygiene is required of all Freshmen, and attendance is also required at such special lectures in hygiene as may be announced by the Director of Physical Education. Every Freshman must present, upon matriculation, a health certificate signed by a physician. At least two physical examinations are given by the Director of Physical Education during the freshman year. Measurements and records are kept and corrective exercises are prescribed when needed. Students are encouraged to organize and carry on a great variety of outdoor sports under the general charge of the Director. All cases of illness are reported immediately to the college nurse who cooperates with the local physicians. Porter Hospital is fully equipped for the accommodation of any cases of illness which may arise. The health fee entitles each student to fourteen days' hospitalization at the minimum rate. Private rooms, special nursing, and physicians' fees are taken care of by the student. The importance to the student of laying a sound physical foundation during the years of his college course cannot be overestimated, and the College reserves the right to ask the withdrawal of any student whose physical condition is not satisfactory.

CHAPEL SERVICES

Students are required to attend daily chapel assemblies conducted by the President as well as Sunday Vespers services led by men distinguished in educational and religious fields. Among the list of Vespers speakers are: Henry Hallam Tweedy, Yale Divinity School; James Lukens McConaughy, President, Wesleyan University; J. Edgar Park, President, Wheaton College; Charles R. Brown, Dean Emeritus, Yale Divinity School; A. G. Butzer, Westminster Church, Buffalo; Robert C. Clothier, President, Rutgers University; John Brett Fort, St. Mark's Church, Leominster, Mass.; Grant Noble, Williamstown, Mass.; Paul Scherer, New York City; Rex Stowers Clements, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Wilbur E. Saunders, Peddie School; Ralph C. Hutchinson, President, Washington and Jefferson College; William M. Lewis, President, Lafayette College.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

The College places in the hands of each student a pamphlet of regulations containing detailed information as to enrollment, attendance, scholarship, examinations, athletics, and student activities. Since the necessarily limited enrollment places upon the College the obligation to select candidates with the utmost care possible, a responsibility is felt for those who are accepted and the gratifying record that Middlebury graduates have made is due, we believe, to this. To safeguard this record of the past, the College reserves the right to exclude at any time students whose conduct or academic standing it regards as undesirable, and without assigning any further reason therefor; in such cases the fees due or which may have been paid in advance to the College will not be refunded or remitted, in whole or in part, and neither the College nor any of its officers shall be under any liability whatsoever for such exclusion.

EXPENSES

Bills are payable by semesters. All students entering for the first time are required to make an initial deposit of $100.00 on their semester bill at the time of registration. Members of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes are required to pay all arrears and to make a deposit of at least $50.00 on their new accounts before they are permitted to enter classes. Bills for the first semester must be settled in full by November first or satisfactory arrangements made at the Treasurer's office. For the second semester all students are required to make a minimum deposit of $50.00 before enrolling, and accounts must be settled in full or satisfactory arrangements made by March 1. A certificate of deposit from the Treasurer's office and a class card are required before the student is allowed to attend classes.

The following table includes the principal items of expense for the year:

Tuition	$300.00
An increase of $50 per annum in tuition is being considered, effective with the class entering in September, 1939.
College room rent, including heat and electricity (limited)	$100.00 to 150.00
Table board at Hepburn Commons or the Chateau	250.00
Gymnasium and athletic fee	20.00
*Health fee	10.00
Publications:
The Campus	3.00
The Saxonian	1.00

*In addition to minor dispensary service, this covers the equivalent of fourteen days service at Porter Hospital, when necessary, at the minimum rate of $3.00 per day.

The Kaleidoscope	4.00
Undergraduate Association dues	1.00
Lecture fee	2.00

With the help of the list of fixed charges given above, the individual student should be able to work out an approximate estimate of his expenses for the year. The annual charges vary from $690 to $740, exclusive of laboratory fees and charges for extra courses, the difference depending on the price of the room selected. In addition to these the student should consider travel, textbooks, clothing, fraternity dues, and social assessments. Items varying according to class, courses, and society:

Special laboratory fees (see course descriptions)	$2.00 to $12.00
Extra course per semester	30.00
Graduation fee (seniors only)	11.00
Books and supplies	20.00 to 50.00
Fraternity dues	40.00 to 100.00

Guest privileges of the Middlebury Country Club Golf Course are available to students at a fee of $1.00 per semester.

The College makes no refund of tuition for absence, withdrawal or dismissal from College, except for continued illness. No student will be permitted to take his examinations, given his credits, or considered honorably dismissed until all his accounts have been paid in full. Students boarding at the men's dining halls, if absent two weeks or longer will be allowed a rebate of $5 a week for each full week's absence.

The College reserves the right to change quoted charges if necessary to meet the actual cost.

The College does not undertake to guarantee employment to students and does not encourage men to enter who are without adequate resources. There are, however, a limited number of opportunities for men to assist themselves doing such work as waiting on table in Hepburn dining room, assisting in the laboratories and offices of the College, and acting as janitors. The village of Middlebury is small and consequently the amount of work available outside the College is limited. It is the rare student who finds sufficient employment to cover his entire expenses, and with the present enrollment steady work cannot be supplied to all who apply. An employment bureau conducted by the office of the Dean serves as a clearing house for such work about the College and village as is available. Prior to matriculation, incoming students should address all communications concerning employment to the Director of Admissions and Personnel.

The Registrar will issue a transcript of record on request to students wishing to transfer or in any other way needing a statement of their credits. One copy of the college record is furnished free. A fee of one dollar will be charged for a duplicate of the transcript. In the case of students who have received scholarship aid or who are financially indebted to the College, however, no transcript will be issued until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the Treasurer's office.

GOVERNMENT AND RESOURCES

The government of the College is by a board of Trustees whose corporate title is "The President and Fellows of Middlebury College." The corporation is self-perpetuating and the charter of the College contains no restrictions as to elections. The College owns buildings, equipment and grounds valued at $2,110,000. The permanent endowment amounts to $4,300,000. An appropriation of $7,200 is received from the State of Vermont, for scholarships. The expenditures for the year 1936-37 were approximately $380,393.56. The College has never impaired its endowments and is not in debt.

ADMISSION

Middlebury is primarily concerned with offering a sound liberal arts education which can give to men the broadest possible background for specialized careers. Preparatory school students who consider entering Middlebury should bear this in mind.

Since the College considers the personality and the character of the student fully as important as his scholastic credentials, a personal interview with each applicant is ordinarily arranged by the Director of Admissions and Personnel either at the College or at some convenient point. The recommendations of the principal, alumni, and others known to the College are carefully weighed. In all cases, an adequate certificate of health is required.

In approving a candidate for admission, his entire secondary school course is analysed, particular attention being paid to the work of the last two years. Preference is given the candidate who presents a carefully planned program with well integrated subject matter, rather than a haphazard collection of unrelated preparatory courses. Available data as to his school life and interests is studied, as well as the scores on scholastic aptitude, achievement and other diagnostic tests given by the preparatory school.

Students may enter by certification, examination, or both, and the Definition of Requirements of the College Entrance Examination Board is accepted as a standard for requirements in the various subjects.

BY CERTIFICATION

Candidates applying for entrance by certificate must be from approved secondary schools, listed by the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, the Board of Regents of the State of New York, or elsewhere by state or regional accrediting associations acceptable to the Committee on Admission. New England schools not upon the approved list of the Certificate Board, but meeting its requirements in respect to curriculum, teaching staff and equipment, may, for the purpose of showing their standard of certification, send one or more students on certificate, if arrangements for so doing are concluded with the Board before April 1. Inquiries on this subject may be addressed to Professor Frank W. Nicolson, Secretary of the Board, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

Students who have taken the examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board, or of the Board of Regents of the State of New York will be credited upon certificate for all such examinations passed with satisfactory grades.

Fifteen units are necessary for entrance by certificate, distributed as follows; three required units in English, nine optional units made up from ancient or modern languages, mathematics, history, natural science and social science; and three free unit choices from other approved preparatory school subjects.

In special cases a passing grade in the free choices may be accepted from candidates showing outstanding preparation in the required and optional units, but the Committee on Admission must be satisfied, on the basis of all the information available, that the candidate is qualified to pursue a college course.

A unit ordinarily refers to a full year's work in one subject, except English where three units are given for four years' work. Those who contemplate doing advanced work in English or a foreign language are advised to present three or preferably four years of Latin. Those who contemplate college work in mathematics, chemistry, physics, or economics should present three years of mathematics. There are several fields of study for which the subjects recommended above are not essential, but those who include these subjects in their preparatory program will have a wider range of choice.

Special Certification

Students who have graduated in the first third of their class from any approved high school and who are certified by their principals upon the general record of their courses, rather than in individual subjects, may be admitted provided they have satisfied the twelve required and optional units. A detailed statement of the high school course will be accepted for the remaining three units. No conditions will be allowed. It is understood that in granting this special certification, the principal is assuming the same obligation for the work certified that he does for a student to whom he gives regular certification.

BY EXAMINATION

Students who do not comply with the requirements for complete certification may enter by examination, or by partial certification and examination.

Those who desire to enter entirely by examination may make application for admission on the basis of "Plan B" examinations (examinations in four fundamental subjects), given by the College Entrance Examination Board at convenient points. Information on subjects to be chosen for "Plan B" examinations may be secured by application to the Director of Admissions and Personnel.

The College Entrance Examination Board will hold examinations June 17-24, 1939,

(the scholastic aptitude test is held on June 17th), at over three hundred points in this country and abroad. A list of these places will be published about March 1, 1939. Requests that the examinations be held at particular points should be transmitted to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board not later than February 1, 1939.

Detailed definitions of the requirements in all examination subjects are given in a circular of information published annually about December 1. Upon request to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board a single copy of this document will be sent to any teacher without charge. In general, there will be a charge of thirty cents, which may be remitted in postage.

All candidates wishing to take these examinations should make application by mail to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York, N. Y. Blank forms for this purpose will be mailed by the Secretary of the Board to any teacher or candidate upon request by mail.

The applications and fees of all candidates who wish to take the examinations in June, 1939, should reach the Secretary of the Board not later than the dates specified in the following schedule: For examination centers

In the United States east of the Mississippi River or on the Mississippi May 29, 1939
In the United States west of the Mississippi River or in Canada May 22, 1939
Outside of the United States and Canada except in Asia May 8, 1939
In China or elsewhere in the Orient April 24, 1939.

An application which reaches the Secretary later than the scheduled date will be accepted only upon payment of $5 in addition to the regular examination fee of $10.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test may be taken upon the completion of the school course or at the end of the third year of secondary school work. Each candidate desiring to take this test, even though he is to take no other examination, must file with the Secretary of the Board the usual application for examination. If the Scholastic Aptitude Test is taken in connection with other examinations, no additional fee is required; if taken alone, the fee is $10.

BY CERTIFICATION AND EXAMINATION

Students from approved schools (as previously defined) who have only partial certification totaling eight units or more may make up deficiencies by taking "College Board" examinations covering the units in which they are not certified. No total certification for less than eight units will be considered, but the eight units need not all be from the same school. Minor deficiencies of students already accepted may also be made up by taking examinations given by the College in September at Middlebury, but it is understood that places in the quota for the Freshman class cannot be guaranteed to such candidates, even if successful in the examinations, unless there is a sufficient number of vacancies in the quota to make possible their acceptance.

ENTRANCE CONDITIONS

Preference will be given to those entering without conditions, but students otherwise highly recommended, may, if there is a place for them, be admitted if conditioned in not more than two units. Not more than one of these conditions may be in English. The methods by which entrance conditions may be removed are: by taking the regular entrance examinations at Middlebury in September; by keeping an average of 80 percent in all the work of the Freshman year, with grades in all subjects above passing; or by having at the beginning of the Sophomore year three credits deducted from the college record for each unit or fraction of the remaining entrance conditions. However, the latter shall not be construed as prejudicing any work that the student may have done toward satisfying major requirements, or in meeting his prescribed courses. After the opening of his second year, no student may take an examination to remove entrance conditions.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

All inquiries with regard to admissions should be addressed to the Director of Admissions and Personnel. He will supply necessary admission forms to the applicant, and upon receipt of an application for admission, will submit certificate forms directly to the principal of the preparatory school. Other forms are sent to the applicant's references.

Early application is advisable, since the enrollment in the Freshman class is limited. A tentative choice of applicants is made by a series of selections. The first is made by the Committee on Admission about the middle of March, at which time records of applicants through the first half of the Senior year are usually available. The applicant is informed as soon as he is accepted, but final action is not taken on the application until the preparatory school record is complete. Ordinarily the tentative acceptance becomes final as soon as the candidate successfully completes the work of the Senior year.

ADVANCED STANDING

Only a limited number of students can be accepted in any year by transfer from other institutions. A candidate for admission to advanced standing should present a detailed transcript of his work in the institution previously attended, including a list of preparatory subjects accepted by that institution, and a statement of honorable dismissal. No student who has been separated from another institution for reasons of scholarship will be granted any academic favor that would not be extended by the institution from which the separation was made.

Applications for admission to advanced standing are expected to meet the same standards with regard to character and personality that apply to candidates for admission to the Freshman class.

All students transferring from other institutions are given provisional class ranking for their first year. At the close of this period their credits are adjusted and it is understood that in making the adjustment the quality of the work done at Middlebury is taken into consideration.

A student satisfying an instructor of fitness to do so may take a qualifying examination in any subject of the Freshman year, which, if passed, will be accepted as prerequisite to the succeeding course, but will not entitle the student to college credit for the examination so passed.

FRESHMAN WEEK

Directly preceding the opening of College a three-day "Freshman Week" is scheduled. The program, aimed to assist Freshmen in their adjustment to the college community, includes an informal assembly of the class on the opening evening, registration, orientation lectures, psychological test, physical examination, sex hygiene lectures, and training in use of the library. Each student is assigned to a faculty adviser who assists him in making out his program of studies.

CURRICULUM

Middlebury College confers one degree, Bachelor of Arts. To obtain the variety of interests and breadth of view which graduation from a college of liberal arts implies, undergraduates are urged to distribute their selection of courses wisely. Students should plan their four years' work, bearing in mind that a comprehensive examination must be taken at the end of the senior year covering all the subjects in which major work was done. The Bulletin "To College With a Purpose," which presents desirable programs for various careers, should be studied with care. Advisers are appointed to give students individual assistance in making the wisest selection of courses.

The first three days of the college year, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, are given over to registration and condition examinations. All students are required to enroll and register their election of courses in the gymnasium on one of these days. For the second semester registration must be completed at the Registrar's office on or before the Friday preceding it. A charge of $5 will be made for each enrollment after the days assigned for registration. The schedule of courses must be endorsed by the advisers before the Registrar will submit class cards to the instructors.

ORGANIZATION OF COURSES

The twenty-five departments are arranged in three divisions as follows:

Language Division	Social Science Division	Natural Science Division
American Literature	Contemporary Civilization	Biology
Drama and Public Speaking	Economics	Chemistry
English	Education and Psychology	Drawing and Surveying
French	Fine Arts	Geology and Geography
German	History	Mathematics
Greek	Music	Physics
Italian	Philosophy
Latin	Physical Education
Spanish	Political Science
	Sociology

The normal number of courses of study required of each student in a given year is five. These may be year-courses or their equivalent in semester courses. In order for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors to take six courses they must have attained an average of 80 per cent in all work of the previous year; to take seven courses, 90 per cent. A charge of $30 a semester is made for each extra course.

Undergraduate work is reckoned in semester hours and courses. A semester hour means one period of class work per week for one semester. All courses, unless otherwise stated, are conducted three hours a week, so that the normal amount of classroom work required is fifteen recitation hours a week, exclusive of preparation. Laboratory courses require double periods, each double period usually counting the same as one hour of recitation.

While the amount of time required for thorough preparation differs in different studies and for different students, every student should allow at least two hours for the preparation of each hour of recitation; the best results of collegiate training cannot be expected from less.

In each semester of the freshman year the election of History of English Literature and Contemporary Civilization is prescribed by faculty regulation. The remaining three courses are free electives and may be chosen from any subjects open to Freshmen. At present these include the college introductory courses in Biology, Chemistry, History, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, and any of the ancient or modern languages. Those who have taken a modern language in high school and have acquired satisfactory preparation may continue the subject in intermediate or advanced courses. Freshmen may take practical work in music but without college credit.

At the end of the freshman year each student, in consultation with a faculty adviser, determines upon a Field of Planned Study to be pursued through the remaining three years. A Field of Planned Study is a group of courses so planned as to form an integrated and coherent whole, attention being paid to the advantageous sequence of courses within a department and to the coordination of courses in different departments. As a rule each Field of Planned Study centers around some one department which sponsors the plan, the courses in that department being designated the major, those in other departments being called cognate courses. The total amount of work comprehended in any Field of Planned Study is not less than 48 and not more than 72 semester hours beyond the work of the freshman year, and not more than one half of the courses in any plan are to be in the major department, except in the case of a joint major. A joint major is the basis of a Field of Planned Study sponsored by two departments which cooperate for that purpose, in which case two-thirds of the work may be divided between those departments. Each department having facilities for major work publishes one or more Fields of Planned Study based upon work in that department as a major, and in addition may draft individual plans to meet the needs of students having special interests not met by any of the regular plans.

The student's adviser for the freshman year, or the dean, or both, will act as consultants in facilitating the wise selection of a Field of Planned Study. When one has been definitely chosen, a permanent adviser for the remainder of the college course is assigned to the student by and from the department sponsoring the plan chosen.

The following regulations are prescribed for the choice of studies after the first year, and each student before graduation shall meet these requirements as to a major and the distribution of work.

1. At the end of the freshman year a major study shall be elected and not less than twenty-four nor more than thirty-six hours in that department shall be completed beyond the work of the freshman year.

2. Completion of not less than twenty-four nor more than thirty-six hours beyond the work of the freshman year in such cognate courses in various departments as the major department may specify in order to have a unified field of study.

3. The student shall complete a minimum of twelve hours in each group and shall not take more than eighty-four in any one.

Freshmen may not elect more than one course in a department during a semester, Sophomores not more than two, and Juniors and Seniors not more than three. The total amount of work in any department may not exceed forty-two hours.

A Sophomore who for any reason is not satisfied with the first choice of a major may at the end of the year change to another subject, but assurance should first be obtained from the department to which the change is proposed that the student will be able to meet its requirements in the remaining two years. After the close of the sophomore year changes in a major subject will be allowed only for exceptional reasons and with the consent of the major adviser.

No change in studies will be allowed during the first week of classroom work except by permission of the Chief Adviser. During the second week of classroom work a change may be made only with the permission of the Chief Adviser and the Instructor involved, and the payment of a fee of $5. For making a change during the third week of classroom work a fee of $10 will be required. The fee in each case must be paid to the Registrar before the new Admittance Card is given to the Instructor. After the third week of classroom work no change may be made except within a department and upon the initiative of the Instructor.

The completion of 40 semester courses of 3 hours or more each per week, or their equivalent in year courses, is required for a degree. The final year of work must be taken at Middlebury College, except as provided in the coordinated plan with Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarship is graded on the scale of 100 per cent, 60 per cent being passing.

Reports of standing are made at the end of each semester. At these times notices of failures are sent to both students and parents.

At least 32 of the 40 semester courses required for graduation must be of not less than 70 per cent grade.

A student credited with the equivalent of eight semester courses at the beginning of the college year will be ranked as a Sophomore for that year; with 18, a Junior; with 28, a Senior.

Not more than six semester hours can be attained by an undergraduate at a Summer Session. Proportionate credit, however, will be allowed for work in summer sessions or summer quarters at other institutions where the period of summer work is longer than six weeks.

CONDITIONS IN COLLEGE WORK

A student who fails to pass a course at the close of the first semester and is thereby conditioned, but who is permitted to remain in College, is given an opportunity to take a make-up examination either on the first day after the Easter recess or on such one of the first three days of the next college year as shall be determined by the Registrar. A student who is conditioned at the close of the second semester, and who is permitted to remain in College, may take an examination on such one of the first three days of the next college year as shall be determined by the Registrar, or on the first day after the Christmas recess.

Application for the opportunity to remove a condition or deficiency must be made to the Registrar and a fee of $5 paid. If an examination is to be taken, the application to the Registrar must be made at least one week in advance of the time set for the examination.

A make-up examination must be taken at the time for which the student registers, unless excused by the Dean in advance.

No exceptions will be made except that a Senior may take an examination for each deficiency or condition incurred during the senior year, on the Friday preceding Commencement. But no make-up in a comprehensive will be offered until the following May.

To remove a condition the average of the term mark and the new examination mark combined in the ratio of three to one must reach 60 per cent.

Any student failing to make up a condition as provided for above must repeat the course with the following class if the subject is a required one, even though, from conflict of hours or any other cause, it necessitates the temporary omission of some of the regular work of his class.

EXAMINATIONS

Many courses are offered in year rather than semester units and final examinations on the whole year's work are given in June unless otherwise noted in the course description. When they are listed as half-year courses final examinations are given at the end of each semester.

A student inexcusably absent from an examination will be conditioned. A student unavoidably absent from College at the time set by the Registrar for taking the examination will be given an opportunity without fee immediately upon the return to College or before the beginning of the corresponding semester of the following year. If one fails to meet this requirement, the course must be repeated with the following class if the subject is a required one.

A student whose grade in any course falls below 50 per cent is excluded from examination and must, if the subject is a required one, repeat it with the following class.

A student will be conditioned whose recitation and examination mark combined in the ratio of three to one is below 60 per cent. No student whose examination mark is below 50 per cent will be allowed to pass.

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS

At the end of the senior year every student must pass a general examination testing comprehensive knowledge of the subject in which major work was chosen and covering all of the requirements in that department. A passing grade of 60 per cent in this is required for graduation. This examination is divided into not less than two parts of at least two hours each, and given a week or more before the beginning of final examinations. Each department may require related courses in other departments, as part of the material of the general examination.

Students majoring in a modern language should have the ability to understand, speak, and write the language easily and should have acquired a knowledge of the history and civilization, the chief authors and main currents in the literature of the country.

A student who fails to pass the comprehensive may not take a second examination until the following May.

Students who pass the comprehensive with a grade of 75 per cent may, at the discretion of the department, be excused from final course examinations in any or all courses that may fall within the field of concentration, including allied courses accepted for this purpose. It is understood, however, that no student is excused from any other requirement in courses.

The week previous to the time taken up by the comprehensive examinations is considered a Reading Period for Seniors and classes composed of over 80 per cent Seniors may be discontinued at the discretion of the Instructor. In all other courses Seniors are held responsible for material content which can be covered by reading or laboratory work, but are not required to attend classes nor held responsible for the class discussion. Departments assist students in organizing and coordinating their material for the comprehensive examinations by individual conferences, group seminars, series of lectures, reading lists and syllabi, sample examinations, or senior coordinating courses.

The purpose of the comprehensive examination requirement is to put the emphasis on the assimilation of knowledge and on the acquisition of a broad and deep comprehension of the student's major subject, both in the various phases of the subject itself and also in its relation to other branches of knowledge. The required and recommended courses indicated by each department are a guide to the material to be covered by the examination. Instead of the mere accumulation of points from a certain number of isolated courses passed, the Middlebury Bachelor's Degree represents a unified body of intellectual experience, gathered and assimilated over a period of four years, and correlated for practical application to intellectual problems.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

As an incentive to such students as have the ability to do more than should be required of the majority, and to promote and encourage individual investigation in the various departments of the curriculum, the faculty has established a system of honors. These are divided into two classes, Honors and High Honors, and are subject to the following regulations:

1. Honors must be sought in the department in which the candidate is concentrating, and at the end of his course his application for Honors must have the unanimous recommendation of the department.

2. The candidate shall announce the intention of working for Honors to the head of the department concerned at a time not later than the registration period at the beginning of the senior year. It is urgently recommended, however, that the candidate consult with the departmental head at as early a time as possible in order that the requirements for Honors in the department concerned may be thoroughly understood and completely met.

3. Each candidate for Honors shall be required to pass by unanimous vote of the entire department concerned a special comprehensive examination to be devised and administered by the department in which Honors are sought and as specified in Section 6 that follows. Each department shall issue at least one year before the date set for the special examination a statement of the material on which the examination shall be based and shall have the right to include such special requirements as seem suitable, such as complementary courses in allied departments, etc.

4. In order to secure Honors a student must have obtained an average rank of not less than 80 per cent in the department in which Honors are sought; a general average of not less than 80 per cent in the entire college course; and a grade of 85 per cent in the special comprehensive examination. In order to secure High Honors the student must obtain an average rank of not less than 90 per cent in the department in which High Honors are sought; a general average of not less than 85 per cent in the entire college course; and a grade of 90 per cent in the special comprehensive examination.

5. Candidates for Honors are expected to consult frequently with departmental heads concerning their progress in fulfilling requirements and in general concerning their preparation for the special comprehensive examination.

6. Candidates for Honors shall be required to take the regular departmental comprehensive examination with the addition of sufficient examination material to test the candidate's special preparation in his Honors work. It should be understood that this additional material with the regular departmental comprehensive examination shall constitute in effect a special examination. Should the candidate be unsuccessful in passing this examination the grade shall be recorded and the candidate shall then be given a grade for a regular comprehensive examination. Such candidates will, therefore, be subject to the usual requirements governing the regular comprehensive examination required of all students.

These honors will be printed on the Commencement program and in the next annual Catalogue, and will be certified to, when requested, by a written certificate from the Registrar and the professor of the department, stating the nature and quality of the extra work done.

The degree of A.B. is conferred cum laude upon those who have attained an average rank, for the entire course, of 85 to 90 per cent; magna cum laude if that rank is 90 to 95 per cent; summa cum laude if it is 95 per cent or above.

HONORARY APPOINTMENTS

The faculty, under the direction of the Corporation, give the honorary Commencement appointments in College: to the senior attaining highest rank, the appointment of Valedictorian, and to the second in rank, the appointment of Salutatorian.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Middlebury Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa Society is the Beta of Vermont. Members of each senior class, who have attained an average rank of 89 per cent for six semesters, or an average rank of 87½ per cent for eight semesters are eligible for membership, up to a maximum of 15 per cent of the class.

DEPARTMENTS AND COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Most of the courses meet three times a week. The year in which a course would be elected most effectively by the average student is clearly indicated by the number used to define the course: numbers from 11 to 19 inclusive indicate freshman courses; numbers from 21 to 29, sophomore courses; from 31 to 39, junior courses; and from 41 to 49, senior courses. Figure 1 following the decimal point in the number of a course (e.g., 21.1) shows that it is a first semester course; figure 2 (e.g., 21.2) that it is a second semester course; the number without figure following decimal point (e.g., 21.) indicates that it is a year course. Unless otherwise stated semester courses carry 3 credits and year courses 6 credits toward the required 120.

Prerequisite courses are shown in parentheses. Bracketed courses are not given in the current year. Not more than three courses in one department may be taken at the same time except by permission of the Administration Committee. In any modern language, students of any class will be assigned to those courses for which, in the judgment of the instructor, they are best fitted.

AMERICAN LITERATURE
Professor Cook

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 21.; 31.; 41.1 or its alternate; 42.2 or its alternate.

21. American Literature Survey.
A study of the main currents of literary thought in America to 1900, with particular emphasis on selected works of some major writers.

31. The American Novel.
A study of the main tendencies in the development of the novel in America. (American Literature 21.) (Permission.)

41.1 Contemporary American Poetry.
A study in contemporary American poetry as revealed in the work of outstanding poets. (American Literature 21.) (Permission.)

[41.2 The American Short Story.]
A study of the development of the short story in America. (American Literature 21.) (Permission.)

42.2 Emerson and Thoreau.
An intensive study of the work of major American authors who have made important contributions to American thought. (American Literature 21.) (Permission.)

51. Special Research Courses.
Open to qualified students. Recommended for Seniors preparing to obtain honors in American Literature. (American Literature 21.) (Permission.)

BIOLOGY

Professor Longwell
(Staff to be announced)

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 11.; 21.; 22.; 31. Courses recommended: Chemistry 11.; Chemistry 23.; Philosophy 22.2.

11. General Biology.

An introduction to the fundamental biological laws and to the study of the interrelation of organisms; structure and function of physiological systems; laboratory study of selected animals and plants.

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

Professor Longwell.

21. Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates.*

A comprehensive study of vertebrate structure with special reference to man, adaptation and evolution. Dissection of selected animal types. (Biology 11.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

Professor Longwell.

22. Structure and Physiology of Plants.

The morphology and physiology of seed plants; a general survey of the plant kingdom from the viewpoint of comparative morphology and physiology. (Biology 11.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

31. General Physiology.*

The functions of organs of the human body; physical and chemical nature of protoplasm; the structure of cells, cell physiology; chemistry of foods; digestion; metabolism; circulation; respiration; endocrine function; the vitamins; excretion; the neuro-muscular mechanism. Designed for the general student and those interested in dietetics, hygiene, physical education, and medicine. (Biology 11.) (Desirable antecedents, Chemistry 11. and Biology 21.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

41. General Bacteriology.*

Lectures and laboratory practice; structure and physiology of bacteria; the technique of their study; preparation of stains, reagents, culture media; determination of species; the bacteriology of water, sewage, milk, shellfish; animal immunity, cyclogeny, bacteriophagy. (Biology 11.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

42.1 Genetics.*

Principles of variation, selection, and heredity. Laws of inheritance in plants and animals. Human inheritance and its significance to society. Designed for advanced students in Biology and for those specializing in the social sciences. (Biology 11.)

Laboratory fee, $5. (Given in alternate years.)

Professor Longwell.

*Open to Graduate Students.

[43.1 Embryology and Histology.*]

A study of the development of the human body The reproductive cells: maturation, fertilization, cleavage, etc., and development of the principal functional systems. Laboratory study of early stages in the chick, dissection and study of later embryonic stages of the pig. Preparation and staining of animal tissues. (Biology 11.) Given in alternate years.

Laboratory fee, $5.

45. Special.*

Individual research in a restricted field. (Permission.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester.

CHEMISTRY

Professor Voter
Associate Professor Haller
Associate Professor Womack

Mr. MacFadyen, Mr. Brown and Mr. Rosenberg

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 11. or 13.; 21.; 23.; 31.; 41.; or their equivalents; Mathematics 11. and Physics 21.1, .2, or their equivalents; general knowledge of the literature and historical development of Chemistry (covered by 33. when given); reading knowledge of either German or French, German preferred.

Courses recommended: Chemistry 49., Economics, Psychology, Philosophy, and Logic. Additional work in Mathematics, Physics, and English, and a third science desirable.

A deposit fee to cover cost of broken apparatus is charged in each laboratory course, to be paid to the Treasurer at the beginning of each semester.

Students seeking Honors in this Department should consult with Head of the Department regarding additional requirements to those listed elsewhere in this catalogue.

11. Introductory General Chemistry.

Introduction to the fundamental principles of general chemistry, with the preparation and study of the elements and their more common compounds in the laboratory.

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester, and breakage.

Associate Professor Haller and Assistants.

[13. General Chemistry.]

Similar to Chemistry 11, but more advanced. Open to students who have passed the Entrance Board examination in chemistry and by permission to others who have had a satisfactory secondary school course.

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester and breakage.

21. Qualitative Analysis and Introductory Physical Chemistry.

Lectures and laboratory work. Complete analysis, on the semi-micro basis, of inorganic subtances including alloys, minerals and commercial products. Selected phases of elementary physical principles as a basis for understanding the underlying causes and technique of analytic and organic chemistry. (Chemistry 11. or 13.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester and breakage.

Professor Voter and Assistant.

*Open to Graduate Students.

23. Introductory Organic Chemistry.

Lectures and laboratory work on the carbon compounds. The methods of synthesis, properties, structures, industrial application, and physiological action of the more important members of each group are studied in detail. (Chemistry 11. or 13.)

Laboratory fee, $12 per semester and breakage.

Associate Professor Womack.

31. Quantitative Analysis.*

Laboratory work and lectures dealing with the general methods of Quantitative Analysis, gravimetric, volumetric, and electrolytic. (Chemistry 21. or 23.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester and breakage.

Professor Voter.

[33. Historical Chemistry and Chemical Literature.*]

A brief survey of the history of Chemistry and development of chemical theory. A study of the literature of Chemistry. (Chemistry 21. or 23.)

35. Biological Chemistry.

Lectures and laboratory work on the biochemistry of foods, digestion, nutrition and metabolism. Practical methods of blood and urine analysis; the chemistry of the tissues in health and disease. Meets the requirements of students concentrating in Home Economics and pre-medical students. This course should appeal to advanced students interested in the application of pure Chemistry to Biology. (Chemistry 23.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester and breakage.

Associate Professor Womack.

41. Physical Chemistry.*

Lectures and laboratory work. A systematic presentation of modern chemical theory. The subject matter includes Atomic and Molecular theory; gases, liquids and solids; theory of solution; colloid chemistry and adsorption, reaction velocity, catalysis, and equilibrium in homogenous systems; The Phase Rule, Thermochemistry, Electrochemistry and Photochemistry. (Chemistry 21., 23., 31., at least simultaneously.)

Laboratory fee, $10 per semester and breakage.

Associate Professor Haller.

43.1 Advanced Organic.*

Lectures on the characterization of pure organic compounds. Unknown substances are analyzed qualitatively in the laboratory, and some introduction to the quantitative determination of the common elements and functional groups in organic compounds is given. (Chemistry 23. and 31.)

Laboratory fee, $12 and breakage.

Associate Professor Womack.

43.2 Advanced Organic.*

Advanced preparations, including a critical study of the mechanisms of important reactions with investigations of the original literature, and individual reports on special problems. (Chemistry 23. and 31. Chemistry 43.1 is not a prerequisite.)

Laboratory fee, $12 and breakage.

Associate Professor Womack.

---

*Open to Graduate Students.

[45.2 Industrial Chemistry.*]
Lectures on the principal chemical industries, such as fuels, acids, gases, coal tar, etc. A study of the chemical reactions and apparatus used on a large scale. No laboratory work. (Chemistry 23., 31., at least simultaneously.)
Fee for industrial trips, $6.

[47.1 Chemical Microscopy and Spectroscopy.*]
Microscopic methods applied to chemical investigations. Study of crystalline compounds, recognition of paper and textile fibers. Rapid inorganic chemical analysis of minute samples. Spectroscopic methods applied to chemical investigations. Mapping and photographing spectra, spectroscopic analysis, detection of impurities. (Chemistry 21., 23., and 31.)
Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage.

49. Advanced General Chemistry.*
A comprehensive survey of chemical principles and practice; the history and literature; modern methods; optical and electrical instruments; problems involving a limited amount of laboratory work; visits to industrial plants and preparation for comprehensive examinations. Especially recommended for students majoring in Chemistry. This course is substituted for courses 45.2 and 47.1, in 1938-39. (Chemistry 41., at least simultaneously.)
Laboratory fee, $5 per semester and breakage.
Associate Professor Haller.

51. Research.*
Open to properly qualified students. Recommended for candidates for the Master's degree and for Seniors seeking honors in Chemistry. (Permission.)
Laboratory fee and breakage to be arranged individually.
a. Inorganic and Analytical Chemistry. Professor Voter.
b. Analytical and Physical Chemistry. Associate Professor Haller.
c. Organic and Biological Chemistry. Associate Professor Womack.

CONTEMPORARY CIVILIZATION

Associate Professor Heinrichs

Course required of all students in their freshman year.

11.1
11.2 An orientation and correlation course on current International Relations, the aim of which is to acquaint the student with the major problems and political crises of the principal countries of our present-day world. These countries will be studied for their significant social, economic and political experiments in the post-war period, showing their historical backgrounds and the significance of those systems for the life of the citizens of America today. The text sources are the New York Times (the Herald Tribune, if preferred) and an extended list of the latest books on current subjects. A written book report is required every two weeks, and is carefully scrutinized by the staff of the department. Two class lectures and one discussion period per week in small groups will alternate with three class lectures per week.

A book fee of $5.00 per semester is made for text and source material and to aid in securing prominent outside lecturers to deal with special subjects.

*Open to Graduate Students.

DRAMA AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Professor Goodreds

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 21.1; 31.2; 32.; 43.1; 42.2.

This department covers the work in play production, playwriting, the study of modern drama public speaking and debating.

The courses are adapted to develop the students to the point where they may take charge of similar courses in college or in school, or be community leaders in the Little Theatre movement.

21.1 Principles of Speech. (Voice and Diction.)

Development and use of the speaking voice with special attention to social needs of speech; techniques of speech such as breathing, phrasing, intonation, and stress. Attention given to the elimination of throat fatigue, nasality, extremes of pitch, indistinctness, monotony, mispronunciations, and vocabulary. Phonetics. Voice recordings. Individual guidance and criticism. Practice in reading prose and poetry from the printed page, and short speeches. Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.

Laboratory fee, $1.00.

21.2 Principles of Speech. (Rhetoric and Composition.)

A study of the principles which underlie effective speech. The relation of speaker and audience considered from the psychological standpoint. Rhetorical principles for the development of an adaptable and effective oral English style. Attention to the problems of exposition, interest and persuasion, argumentation. Work is also directed toward expressive action and pleasing platform manner. While most of the speeches are of the extempore form prepared by outline before delivery, attention is given to the other forms. Maximum speaking practice with discussions and limited criticisms. (Permission.) Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.

31.2 Modern Drama.

Continental, English and some American drama of the recent and contemporary dramatic era. The course will deal mainly with the authors from Ibsen up to the present day, but will not confine itself to the study of plays written within a certain arbitrary period. Lectures, reading of a large number of plays, discussions. Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.

32. Play Production.

This course considers the organization of dramatics in schools, colleges, and community houses; it offers a study of the contemporary methods of Play Production; the principles and problems involved in producing plays, staging, costuming, make-up, acting, lighting, directing, scenic design, etc., through the practical medium of the presentation of several long plays and numerous one-act plays in the College Playhouse. A study of plays available for production is made along with the study of production methods, thus building up a background of information necessary for intelligent adaptation of material. Each student is expected to spend several hours a week in laboratory work. (Permission.)

Laboratory fee, $2.50 per semester.

[33.2 Appreciation of the Drama.]

Technical considerations of the major dramatic forms or types, such as tragedy and comedy; dramatic modes, Classicism, Romanticism, Realism, Naturalism; elements of dramatic technique, substance and form of the play, plot, characterization. A brief survey of periods which best represent the desired dramatic elements to be considered. (Alternates with 31.2.)

42.2 Advanced Studies.

Properly qualified Seniors may be permitted to undertake the study of advanced problems in the field of Drama. The course will be conducted mainly as a seminar. Students will be expected to spend considerable time in laboratory work. (Permission.)
Laboratory fee, $2.50.

43.1 Play Direction and Dramatic Interpretation.

This course offers training in the principles of play direction and the elements of acting which are included in the proper interpretation of dramatic roles, improvisation; emphasis upon different forms of dramatic reading; study of pantomime and stage business. Opportunity is given for direction in the experimental plays. (Permission.) Seniors and Juniors.
Laboratory fee, $2.50.

DRAWING AND SURVEYING

Professor Swett†

21.1 Elements of Drafting.

A course in drafting designed for two classes of students: (1) those preparing for the engineering profession; (2) those desiring a course in graphics to aid them in rendering plans and graphs in the various fields in which they may be of use.
Instrument fee, $2.50.

21.2 Mechanical Drawing.

A continuation of Drawing and Surveying 21.1 for students desiring a full year's work in drafting. (Drawing and Surveying 21.1).
Instrument fee, $2.50.

31.2 Surveying and Topography.

Lectures, field work, and drafting. Use of instruments; computations; plotting. (Drawing and Surveying 21.1.)
Instrument fee, $2.50.

32.1 Descriptive Geometry.

Problems relating to lines and planes; to single curved, double curved, and warped surfaces; intersection of solids. (Drawing and Surveying 21.)
Instrument fee, $2.50.

ECONOMICS

Professor Fife
Associate Professor Rusby
Associate Professor Prentice

Courses required for Comprehensive Examinations and Majors: 21.; 31.; 41.; 48.; 42.1 and 43.2 or their equivalent.

†On leave second semester.

20. Economic Society.

A survey of economic society stressing current economic conditions and problems. The course is designed to meet the needs of students who desire to take only one course in economics. This course will not be accepted in lieu of Economics 21 as prerequisite for advanced courses in economics. Mid-year examination. Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.
Associate Professor Rusby.

21. The Principles of Economics.

An introductory course covering the general field of economics. The basic concepts. The production and exchange of wealth. Value and price. The mechanism of exchange —money and banking, marketing, international trade, etc. The distribution of income—rent, wages, interest and profits. Labor problems. The types of economic organization of society—capitalism, socialism, communism, etc. Government finance and taxation. Mid-year examination. Sophomores, Juniors. (Seniors by permission.)
Professor Fife, Associate Professors Prentice and Rusby.

31. The Financial Organization of Society.

A survey course. The development and functioning of financial institutions. Money and credit. Corporations and their financing. Commercial, investment, and savings banks. The American banking system. The stock exchange. Financing agriculture, etc. (Economics 21.) Mid-year examination.
Professor Fife.

Economic History. (See History 32.)
Associate Professor Prentice.

33.1 Marketing and the Principles of Exchange.

A study of market structures, and the marketing process, with special reference to agricultural products, raw materials, producers' and consumers' goods. Marketing functions, and the middleman structure. Relations between consumers, middlemen and producers. Co-operative marketing. Cases and problems. An essay is required. (Economics 21.)
Associate Professor Rusby.

33.2 Transportation.

The development and significance of the modern systems of communication. The principles of land and water transportation. American experience and problems. The Interstate Commerce Commission and the railways. Government Control and Government Ownership of transportation facilities. Labor Problems and the Carriers. (Economics 21.)
Associate Professor Rusby.

34.2 Corporate Finance and Investments.

The rise of corporate forms of organization. The promotion and financing of the corporation. Raising and managing capital. Principles of investment, and the analysis of securities. (Economics 21. and 31. Economics 31. and 34.2 may be taken contemporaneously.)
Associate Professor Prentice.

37.1 The Principles of Accounting.

Interpretative accounting. The bookkeeping process is reduced as much as possible, and interpretation stressed. (Major work in Economics.) (Economics 21. Not counted towards a major.)

Associate Professor PRENTICE.

41. LABOR CONDITIONS AND PROBLEMS.
The course deals first with the origin of labor problems, the rise of capitalism and the wage system, freedom of contract, etc. Second, labor conditions and the standard of living. Third, the workers' approach to their own problems—collective bargaining, the trade union, and the workers' philosophy. Fourth, the employers' approach to the labor problem—the employers' associations, labor management, and employer philosophy. Fifth, the social approach to the labor problem—the social conflict between capital and labor, labor legislation, and social goals and welfare. (Economics 21.) Mid-year examination.
Associate Professor RUSBY.

42.1 GOVERNMENT FINANCE.
The evolution of Government Finance. Governments as collective spending agencies The modern increase in public expenditures, and the need for budgeting. The various forms of revenue. Taxation and tax incidence. Public industries, public domain, and public monopolies. Public credit, and the public debt. (Economics 21. and 31., also open to students taking major work in Government.)
Professor FIFE.

Associate Professor PRENTICE.

[46. Honors and Special Courses.]

Special courses for graduate and honor students and for research work may be arranged to suit the needs of students.

Note: Those interested in economics as their major study are advised to elect as many of the following courses as possible: Economic Geography, Economic History, Business Law, Mathematics of Finance and Statistics. Courses in psychology, philosophy and sociology are also recommended where possible. These are regarded as related and allied fields. Honor students must offer Economic History (History 32.) and Economic Geography (Geology and Geography 25. 1, .2.). Students preparing for business should make a special effort to secure a good grounding in English.

Honor students are required to take a written general examination covering the special field of interest, and an oral general examination covering the entire field of economics as offered in the courses. In addition a thesis is required based on independent study and research.

EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Professor Howard
Professor Adams
Assistant Professor Andrews

Professor Sholes
Assistant Professor Kaiser

Notes on courses in Education:

Majors in Education are not permitted except under conditions noted in college bulletin, "To College with a Purpose." Students planning to teach should be prepared in at least one subject in addition to their major.

Requirements for certification in the eastern states will be supplied through special bulletins prepared by the Department.

Notes on courses in Psychology:

No major in Psychology is offered but students having special interest in the subject may arrange for a correlation of courses between this Department and the Departments of Philosophy or Sociology. See courses 45.1, 45.2.

21.1 Educational Psychology (Introductory Course).

Inborn tendencies and their functions; motivation; various conscious processes and their function in mental growth; learning and habit formation; intelligence; individual differences; factors in human personality; mental hygiene.
Professor Howard and Assistant Professor Andrews.

22.2 Social Psychology.

A study of the forms of human behavior which characterize the group; their relation to social progress, nationality, community and institutional life, and individual development. (Education 21.1.)

Book and trip fee $5.
Professor Sholes.

23.2 History of Education.

The historical evolution of educational theories and practices. Great educational reformers and their influences. Following a study of the European background, emphasis will be given to the development of present American systems of education. (Education 21.1.)
Professor Adams.

24.2 Fields of Psychology.

A survey of the problems, interpretations, principles, methods, and achievements in the major fields of psychology. The contribution of psychology to human welfare will be emphasized. (Education 21.1 and permission.)
Professor Howard.

Philosophy of Education. (See Philosophy 31.2.)
Assistant Professor Kaiser.

34.2 Educational Psychology. (Advanced Course.)
Human motivation; individual differences and capacities; intelligence and achievement tests; types and principles of learning; mental training and transfer; critical analysis of various theories and practices in modern education in the light of psychological principles; psychology and teaching. (Education 21.1.)
Professor Howard.

41.1 Problems and Methods in Secondary Education.
Study of types of teaching, types and function of recitation, supervised study, collection and use of materials, use of teachers' devices, general and special method technique of instruction, text book criticism, presentation of lessons and use of educational literature. (Juniors and Seniors.)
Professor Adams.

42.2 } Practical Work in Education.
Qualified seniors are given an opportunity to do apprentice work at the local high school. This consists of observation, reading papers, supervising laboratory work, giving special assistance to pupils individually or in small groups, and at times taking charge of the class under the direction of the teacher. The details of the work will vary according to the nature of the subject but each apprentice teacher will be given much first-hand experience with problems of management and instruction. Frequent group conference with an instructor in the Department will be required. (Permission.)
Fee $5.
Professor Howard.

45.1 Individual Psychology.
A study of the various procedures and techniques for evaluating individual traits. A major objective is the analysis and administration of intelligence tests. Each student is required to participate in giving individual tests. (Three courses in psychology and permission.)
Professor Howard.

45.2 Mental Adjustments.
Factors operative in building normal, wholesome personality. Types of mal-adjustment within and without the range of normality. Preventive and remedial measures used in dealing with personality problems. (Three courses in psychology and permission.)
Professor Howard.

Courses in Special Methods.
The following departments offer courses in special methods. Descriptions of these courses are given under the announcements of the respective departments.

A general survey of the literary epoch from 1660 to 1800, but with principal emphasis upon the major figures, Dryden, Swift, Pope, Johnson, Goldsmith and Burke. Mid-year examination.

Assistant Professor Brown.

[41.1 Literature from the Anglo-Saxon Period to Chaucer.]

The work extends from about 500 to about 1350, and includes readings in Old and Middle English prose and poetry. The Old English will be read in translation, the Middle English in the original. (Permission.)

II. Courses in Dramatic Literature.

30. Shakespeare.

A detailed reading of typical plays with the purpose of developing an appreciation of them as drama. (Permission.)
Professor Cady.

35. Elizabethan Drama.

The main trends of dramatic development from 1580 to 1642, with attention to the growing perception of dramatic theory and technique. (Permission.)
Professor Cady.

40.2 Drama of the Restoration and Eighteenth Century.
A survey of dramatic literature from 1660 to 1800, with a detailed study of Wycherly, Congreve, Farquhar, Goldsmith and Sheridan. (Permission.)
Assistant Professor Brown.

III. Courses in Composition:

21. Elementary Composition.

Readings and weekly themes. Required of students deficient in English 11.; elective to others who are handicapped in self-expression. Mid-year examination.
Mr. Emerson.

28. Writing from Models.

Composition for students who desire to discover their own abilities or need to gain greater fluency and effectiveness. Practice in the shorter literary types and readings in modern authors. Mid-year examination. Alternates with English 38.
Assistant Professor Brown.

[38. Literary Composition.]

Practice in the shorter literary types such as the essay, story and poem. Weekly conferences. Mid-year examination. (English 11 and one other course in English and American Literature.) Alternates with English 28.

IV. Courses in Literary Types and Individual Writers:

24. The English Novel.

The development of English fiction from the beginnings through Conrad. Readings in representative novels, and the study of personalities, influences, movements, story types and critical standards. (Permission.)
Assistant Professor Perkins.

34. Comparative Fiction.

Reading and analysis of recognized masterpieces of Continental fiction, with study of the history and background of the novel in Russia, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Poland, Norway, Sweden and Austria. Emphasis upon class reports and student discussion. (Two years of English and permission.)
Assistant Professor Perkins.

36.1 The Poetry of Robert Browning.
An intensive study of the poetry of Browning with special reference to the philosophic, musical and artistic interests. (Permission.)
Associate Professor Owen.

[37. The English Bible.]
The growth and literature of the Bible, and the development of religion through the Scriptures. The purpose of the course is to give the general knowledge of the Bible which a cultured person should have. (Juniors and Seniors.)

48.1 Chaucer.
Selected works of Chaucer will be read. The influence of Chaucer on the development of English literature, attitudes of scholars and critics toward Chaucer. Reports and informal discussions. (Permission.)
Professor Beers.

42.1 Studies in Elizabethan Literature. (Spenser.)
A study of his poetry to determine the quality of his mind and his outlook upon life. (English 31. and permission.)
Professor Cady.

43.2 Literary Criticism.
An introduction to the history and methods of criticism, with emphasis upon criticism of contemporary literature. (Permission.)
Associate Professor Owen.

[44. Research and Special Work.]
Students qualified to do special work will be given opportunity to do so under the direction of a department member.

45.2 Contemporary English Poetry.
Readings and informal discussions of Modern English Poetry. (Permission.)
Professor Beers.

46.2 Methods of Teaching English.
A detailed study of those English writers and works studied in high school, with instruction in methods of the presentation of material. (Three year courses in English or American Literature.)
Professor Cady.

FINE ARTS

Associate Professor Owen
Professor Burrage
Professor Dame
Assistant Professor Bedford

31.1 Modern Art.
A study of the various schools of modern painting (cubism, impressionism, etc.) designed to make clear the principles of appreciation of modern painting and to indicate their relationship to the traditional painting of the Italian Renaissance.
Associate Professor Owen.

32.1 Greek Art.
Instruction is given by lectures and stereopticon talks, supplemented by extensive reading on the student's part. The art and civilization of Assyria, Egypt and other nations whose work had a formative influence on the Greeks are treated by way of introduction to Greek art proper.
Professor Burrage.

32.2 Roman Art.
The development of Roman architecture, sculpture, and other arts, from the days of Etruscan influence to the beginning of Christian Art, with particular reference to the archaeological discoveries in various parts of the Roman Empire.
Professor Dame.

33. Principles of Architectural Development.
This course will trace the development of architectural construction and ornament from the Early Christian period through the Gothic during the first semester. The second half will deal with architecture and sculpture during the Renaissance as it first appeared in Italy and was diffused throughout the western world. The course is designed to give a background for present day architectural elements.
Assistant Professor Bedford.

Aesthetics. (See Philosophy 33.2.)
Assistant Professor Kaiser.

FRENCH

Professor Freeman
Associate Professor Ranty
Assistant Professor Binand
Assistant Professor Bourcier
Madame Bruno

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 12.; 21.; 31.; 32.; or their equivalent.
Courses recommended: 41.2; 42.; 44.; for prospective teachers, 41.1, .2; boarding at Le Château.

11. Elementary French. Review Course.
Especially designed for Freshmen whose preparation is insufficient to enable them to profit by the work offered in the usual freshman course French 12. Students who have had only one year of French, or who have not studied the language recently, or who have had no practice in hearing French spoken, should elect this course. Beginners will be accepted only on special permission. A thorough review of the elements of French grammar, with considerable reading, and much emphasis on the spoken language.

weekly meetings with Professor Freeman for discussion and review in preparation for the comprehensive examination.
Assistant Professor Bourcier.

45. Advanced Studies in Language and Literature.*
Candidates for the Master's Degree and Seniors, if properly qualified, may be permitted by the Chairman of the Department to undertake a special problem in reading and research under the direction of some member of the department. A thesis, or an examination, or both, will be required at the end of the course. Properly qualified graduate students may undertake two such separate problems.
a. Literature from the Middle Ages to the contemporary period.
Professor Freeman, Assistant Professor Bourcier.
b. Civilization, Geography, and History.
Assistant Professor Bourcier.
c. Grammar and Teaching Methods.
Professor Freeman.
d. Phonetics.
Associate Professor Ranty.

Note 1: All courses in the French Department are conducted in French, at the Château. Students intending to teach French after graduation should attend at least courses 31.; 32.; 41.1 and 41.2.

Note 2: No thesis is required for the Master's Degree except such dissertations as are required in the separate courses pursued.

GEOLOGY AND GEOGRAPHY

Professor Swett†
Associate Professor Schmidt
Instructor

I. Geology

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 21.1, .2; 31.1, .2; 32.2; 25.2; 41.; Drawing and Surveying 21.1 and 31.2.

21.1 Physical Geology.
The physical features of the earth; the agencies responsible for our topography; the structure of the earth's crust; and the more important rocks and minerals. Field trips.
Fee, $4. (covers field trips).
Associate Professor Schmidt.

21.2 Historical Geology.
The probable origin of the earth; the rise and evolution of organic forms as disclosed by fossil remains and the causes responsible for this progressive development; the past history of oceans, climates, and continents. Field trips. (Geology 21.1.)
Fee, $2. (covers field trips).
Associate Professor Schmidt.

31.1 Mineralogy.
The identification of the important minerals by blowpipe, flame, assay, bead and sensitive chemical tests. The crystal structure of the minerals will also be considered. Field trips. (Geology 21.1 or Chemistry 11., or permission.)
Laboratory fee, $5.
Associate Professor Schmidt.

[31.2 Economic Geology.]
The metallic and non-metallic mineral products of the United States and their worldwide distribution (coal, petroleum, salts, fertilizers, iron, copper, gold, silver, etc.); their origin, processes by which formed or later changed, their geologic structure, their abundance and economic importance. Field trips and reports. (Geology 21.2 and 31.1.) (Alternates with Geology 32.2.)

32.2 Geology of North America.

A detailed survey of the geologic history, the rock structures, and the mineral deposits of the different physiographic provinces of North America. Classroom discussion, outside reading in Geologic Literature, and reports. (Geology 21.2 or permission.)
Associate Professor Schmidt.

41. Special.

Individual research in a restricted field. Limited to students majoring in Geology and Geography.
Associate Professor Schmidt.

II. Geography.

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: Geology and Geography 25.1,.2; 37.1,.2; 21.1,.2; 45.

Courses recommended: Drawing and Surveying 21.1, and at least one year each of economics and history.

25.1 Geographic Basis of Society.

Physical facts of the geographic environment will be presented, followed by a study of man's adjustments—social, political, and economic—to his environment. The course emphasizes the basic principles of geography in its human aspects.
Professor Swett.

25.2 Economic Geography.

A study of the present agricultural, industrial, and commercial development of the world and of the environmental features that have contributed to that development. The course is planned for students as part of a liberal education as well as for those who expect to enter business. (Geography 25.1.)
Professor Swett.

[37.1 Geography of the Eastern Hemisphere.]

The course is primarily an analysis of the natural environment—climate, land forms, mineral resources, etc.—in its bearing upon the economic, social, and political life of the countries of the hemisphere. Especially planned for students of geography, history, and economics. (Geography 25.1.)

[37.2 Geography of the Western Hemisphere.]

A course similar in its objectives and presentation to Geography 37.1, but for the Western instead of the Eastern Hemisphere. (Geography 25.1.)

45. Special.

A course arranged to suit the needs of students taking comprehensive or honors work.
Professor Swett.

GERMAN

Professor Skillings
Associate Professor Neuse

Miss Williams

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 31.; 32.; 41.; 42.; 43.; 44.; or their equivalent.
Course recommended: History 12.

11. Beginners' German.

Elements of phonetics, drill in pronunciation and comprehending the spoken language; elements of grammar; reading of simple prose.
Professor Skillings, Associate Professor Neuse, and Miss Williams.

21. Intermediate German.

Grammar review; reading, composition, conversation and free reproduction. (German 11. or two years of preparatory school German.)
Professor Skillings and Associate Professor Neuse.

22. Scientific German.

A course for those who wish to acquire the ability to consult German works in the natural sciences, history, economics, etc. In the second semester members of the course select the subject (e.g. Biology, Chemistry, Economics, History, Mathematics, etc.) in which they wish to do the most of their reading. Mid-year examination. (German 11. or equivalent.)
Miss Williams.

31. Goethe and Schiller.

A study of the masterpieces of Goethe and Schiller, and the development of German literature in the great classic period. (German 21.)
Professor Skillings.

32. Writing and Speaking German.

A course designed to give abundant practice in the oral and practical elements of the language and in written composition. (German 21. or equivalent.)
Associate Professor Neuse.

42. German Literature of the Nineteenth Century.

Representative dramas, short stories, novels and poetry are read and discussed. The development of German literature through the nineteenth century to the present time is also studied. (German 31. or 32.)

MATHEMATICS

Professor Perkins
Associate Professor Bowker†
Mr. Gillette
Mr. Hedge

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 11.; 21.; 31.; 41.; and one other course in the department; Physics 21.1, .2.

Courses recommended: Other courses to be selected with the advice of the department.

†On leave.

11. Elementary Mathematical Analysis.

Designed to give a comprehensive survey of the most useful parts of elementary mathematical theory carefully correlated and given unity around the central idea of the universality of the cause and effect relation. Practice is given in such parts of the elements of trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the calculus as are essential for the solution of simple problems and the reading of any texts dealing with elementary physics, chemistry, economics or any of the other sciences.
Mr. Gillette.

21. Mathematical Analysis.

The logical continuation of Mathematics 11. offering some opportunity for review of the theory covered in the freshman year. (Mathematics 11.)
Mr. Hedge.

22. Mathematics of Finance.

For those whose chief interest lies in other fields than mathematics, this, as a sophomore course, offers a good training in finance. Such topics as the mathematics of investment, of amortization of debts, of depreciation, of annuities, and of insurance are treated. Other students are advised to defer this course until a later year. (Permission.)
Fee, $2.50 per semester.
Professor Perkins.

31. Applied Mathematical Analysis.

A continuation of Mathematics 21. It should be elected by students whose chief interest is in mathematics and by those who plan to continue along the main line of development of the subject. (Mathematics 21.)
Mr. Hedge.

41. Differential Equations.

A continuation of Mathematics 31., but the content will be varied somewhat from year to year to meet the needs of those electing the course. (Mathematics 31.)
Professor Perkins.

42. Teaching of Preparatory Mathematics.

Essentially a senior course for prospective teachers of high school mathematics. Consideration of the place and the use of arithemetic, algebra, geometry and trigonometry and the standards to be set in the teaching of these subjects; the collection and arrangement of historical and biographical material to form a background that shall awaken interest in the subject-matter; practice in the selection of texts and the laying out of courses; a study of fundamental principles and discussions of methods of presentation and explanation. (Mathematics 11. and 21. or 22.)
Professor Perkins.

45. Statistical Methods.

This course aims to present the fundamentals of statistical analysis with emphasis on the application of mathematical concepts to the methods used by statisticians in the study and interpretation of data. (Mathematics 11. and 21. or 22.)
Fee, $2.50 per semester.
Mr. Hedge.

[46. Survey of Mathematics.]

A coordinating course for those majoring in mathematics designed to round out and bring into ordered unity the mathematics studied at Middlebury.

47. Analytical Mechanics.

A discussion of the statics and dynamics of a particle and of a rigid body. Composition and resolution of forces, vectors, center of gravity, work, energy, impulse, moment of inertia, static and kinetic friction. (Physics 21., Mathematics 21.)
Professor Perkins.

MUSIC

Professor Hathaway
Assistant Professor Bedford
Mr. Frantz

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 11.2; 21.1, .2; 31.; 42., and at least three years in advanced practical courses.

The aim of this department is to cultivate a knowledge of music by offering courses planned along lines of general academic training and to develop students who shall learn to understand and appreciate music in the same degree that they understand and appreciate other arts.

Emphasis is also laid upon the technical side and courses are offered in pianoforte, organ, singing, violin, and violoncello.

While it is not planned to develop professional musicians, students who give evidence of special talent may continue their work with thoroughness during their college course.

Students choosing music as a major are advised to elect a music course in the freshman year.

11.1, 11.2 Elementary Harmony and Ear Training.

Elementary work in musical notation. General musical definitions. Metre and rhythm. Keys and scales. Major and minor signatures. Sight singing and dictation. Rhythmic patterns. Melody writing and melody construction.
The first steps in the study of musical composition and of the analysis of musical works. The course embraces triads and their progressions, and modulation, also the invention and harmonization of melodies and choral writing in four parts. Keyboard work. (Prerequisite, sufficient piano technic to play simple hymns.)
Professor Hathaway.

21.1, 21.2 Advanced Harmony.

A continuation of Music 11.1, .2. The course includes a study of the chief chromatic chords and their use in modern composition. Suspensions, ornamentation, auxiliary and changing notes, melodic figuration and pedal point. (Music 11.1, .2.)
Mr. Frantz.

22. Pianoforte Music, Its Composers, Characteristics and Interpretation.

A course designed for students interested in the study of the pianoforte playing. Its aim is to furnish as a background knowledge of the development of music written for the piano and how it has arrived at its present stage. The piano styles of the different composers are studied, being determined, as they are, by the time in which they lived and the status of the instruments of the time. Characteristics which differentiate the music of one composer from that of another are emphasized. Two hours lecture and recitation; one hour practical work at the piano.
Professor Hathaway.

31. Counterpoint.

Counterpoint in two, three and four parts in the various species. Introduction to double counterpoint, canon, and fugue. (Music 21.1 and 21.2.)
Mr. Frantz.

32. Introduction to Music.

A survey course designed to develop, without going too deeply into technicalities, the ability to listen to good music. It aims to present in untechnical language an account of the evolution of musical forms. Selections are played and illustrated at the piano and by phonograph records. No knowledge of music is necessary for entrance to this course.

The following subjects are included in the course: Polyphonic forms, Absolute and Descriptive Music, Folk Songs and Art Songs. The Orchestra, Popular Music. The music of the different nations. Romanticism in Music. The Modern School. Mid-year examination.
Professor Hathaway.

[33. Public School Music.]

The course consists in the preparation for the teaching and supervision of music in the public schools. The work of each grade is outlined and problems discussed. Testing and classifying of voices, and organization and management of choruses, glee clubs and orchestras in high schools are taken up as well as some practice in conducting in the local schools.

42. Musical History and Advanced Appreciation.

A general course in the evolution of musical development from earliest times up to the present. Designed for students whose previous work enables them to undertake a more detailed consideration of the music studied. Lectures, required reading and discussion. Mid-year examination.
Professor Hathaway.

[43. The Elements of Composition.]

A course in musical composition open to students who are interested in and possess the technical knowledge and ability represented by previous courses in the department.

It includes the study of form in music and its construction from the musical motive, phrase and period to the dance and song forms, also detailed analysis of the chord structures of classic and modern works. Original work required. (Music 31.)

44. Special.

Intensive study of the work of one period or one composer, the subject to be determined by the instructor. Students electing this course should have a working knowledge of harmony and sufficient technique to play the works studied. (Music 32. and 42.)
Professor Hathaway.

45. Chamber Music.

A course designed for students interested in the development and performance of music for small instrumental combinations. The development of the principal types of chamber music will be traced through the study of numerous works by classic, romantic and modern composers. Open only to students who can participate in the performance of various types of chamber music. One hour lecture and recitation. Two hours of technic and interpretation. (Permission.)
Mr. Frantz.

Honors in Music: Honors in Music are given when, in addition to the requirements for honors in theoretical courses, a student has given a public recital of classical and modern works.

Practical Courses.

Credits: Each practical course, if preceded or accompanied by a theoretical course, will receive one point credit each semester if the student's music grades in the preceding year averaged 75 per cent or over. A certain amount of work must be accomplished during each semester to receive credit. No credit will be given for elementary work in any of the practical courses. It is necessary to have as many theoretical as practical courses if credit for the latter is given.

Charges for practical courses in music are payable in advance. No rebate will be allowed for lessons missed except in case of continued illness. Students will be accepted at any time, tuition from the beginning of the semester to the time of registration being deducted.

Instrumental* and vocal instruction—per semester
1 lesson weekly	$32.00
2 lessons weekly	64.00
Use of piano—1 hour daily—per semester	8.00
Use of organ—1 hour daily—per semester	12.00

M-1. Individual Instruction in the Study of the Pianoforte.
Professor Hathaway.

M-2. Private Instruction in Organ Playing.
Mr. Frantz.

M-3. Private Lessons in Voice Placing, Interpretation and Repertoire.
Assistant Professor Bedford.

M-4. Instruction in Violin and Violoncello.
Mrs. Frantz and Mrs. Adams.

Music Library.

The department collection of phonograph records and scores was augmented in 1937 by a gift from the Carnegie Corporation of about one thousand records, a new electric phonograph, one hundred and fifty scores to accompany all completely recorded works, a library of one hundred volumes, and a cross card file of the records. The collection kept in the Music Studios is available for both class work and student audition at hours set by the head of the department.

Music Organizations.

The College Symphony Orchestra is made up of students selected through tryouts at the beginning of each year. The Orchestra holds regular full and sectional rehearsals, and gives a number of public concerts during the year. At these concerts representative examples of symphonic literature are performed, including symphonies, overtures, suites, and accompaniments to concertos and choral works.
Mr. Frantz.

The College Choir holds two rehearsals weekly and sings at the chapel service each day and at the Sunday vesper service. Opportunity is given to study the works of the best composers of sacred music.
Assistant Professor Bedford.

The Freshman Choir holds weekly rehearsals, singing occasionally at chapel services and at special services augmenting the senior choir.
Assistant Professor Bedford.

*Organ, piano, violin, viola, violoncello.

The Combined Glee Clubs is a mixed Choral organization which prepares a program for the spring tour. Members are chosen from the College Choir who show superior vocal ability. A second try-out is held in December to determine the personnel which will make the tour. The organization is restricted to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who are members of the College choir.
Assistant Professor BEDFORD.

Students who play wind and percussion instruments find a welcome in the College Band. During the past season the Band has numbered about forty members. The College owns a number of instruments used by the Band but prospective students having their own instruments are urged to bring them.
Mr. FRANTZ.

The Choral Club is open to all students. Preparation for presentation of the standard oratorios is made in conjunction with senior and freshman choirs.
Assistant Professor BEDFORD.

PHILOSOPHY

Professor HARRINGTON
Assistant Professor ANDREWS
Assistant Professor KAISER

11.1 PHILOSOPHICAL BEGINNINGS.
A natural approach to Philosophy from the facts of everyday experience and the effort to understand them.
Professor HARRINGTON and Assistant Professor ANDREWS.

11.2 INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY.
A systematic study of the great problems of Philosophy.

Associate Professor Wissler
Mr. Couperus

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 21.1, .2; 31.1; 32.2; 33.1, .2; 34.1; Math. 47.
Students majoring in Physics must have Chemistry 11. and Mathematics 21.

21.1
21.2 } General Physics.
An introduction to the fundamental principles of general physics. The first semester's work is prerequisite to the second. (Three years preparatory school mathematics—or Mathematics 11.)
Associate Professor Wissler.

31.1 Light.
An advanced course for students who wish more knowledge of the subject than can be obtained from general physics. The laws of reflection and of refraction, with their application to optical instruments; the wave theory of light; the spectrum and sit teachings; the phenomena of radiation, absorption, dispersion, interference, and diffraction are some of the topics considered. Laboratory exercises accompany the course work. (Physics 21., Mathematics 11.)

Laboratory fee $5.

Associate Professor WISSLER and Mr. COUPERUS.

32.2 ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM.

An advanced course covering more thoroughly many of the topics studied in the corresponding work in general physics, together with some additional topics, such as the discharge of electricity through gases, electrons, radio-activity, and wireless telegraphy. Laboratory work is required. (Physics 21., and Mathematics 11.)

Laboratory fee $5.

Associate Professor WISSLER and Mr. COUPERUS.

33.1 PHYSICAL MEASUREMENTS.

Elementary theory and practice of physical manipulation. Laboratory work in the measurements of length, mass, time, velocity, linear and angular acceleration; the verification of the laws of equilibrium of forces; the determination of coefficients of elasticity; the density of solids, liquids, and gasses; experiments in sound. (Physics 21., Mathematics 11.)

Associate Professor WISSLER and Mr. COUPERUS.

Laboratory fee, $5.

33.2 PHYSICAL MEASUREMENTS.

Measurements of thermal expansion, specific heat, latent heats of fusion and of evaporation. In electricity, fields of force, electric resistance, electro-motive forces, and strengths of current are measured. The laws of reflection and refraction of light waves and the formation of images by mirrors and lenses are studied, and indices of refraction and lengths of light waves are measured. (Physics 33.1.)

Laboratory fee, $5.

Associate Professor WISSLER and Mr. COUPERUS.

[34.1 MODERN PHYSICS.]

A survey of the recent discoveries in physics and the theories based upon them. The electron, thermionics, photoelectric effect, X-rays, theory of spectra, atomic structure, radioactivity, geophysics, astrophysics, recent ideas in physics are among the topics considered. (Physics 21., Mathematics 21., and permission.)

[41.1 ADVANCED PHYSICAL MEASUREMENTS.]

Special projects to suit the individual student who will gather the required information from the reference library and arrange the necessary apparatus. (Physics 33.2.)

Laboratory fee, $5.

[42.1 ASTRONOMY.]

The celestial sphere; astronomical instruments; determination of latitude, longitude, and time; the earth as an astronomical body; the moon's motions and physical characteristics; the sun's physical characteristics; revelations of the spectroscope; eclipses; planets; comets; stars and nebulae. (Physics 21.)

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Professor Cornwall†
Assistant Professor Bogart
Assistant Professor Robbins

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 11. and three of the following: 21.; 22.; 33.; 41.; and 43. Also Economics 20. or 21. and History 32. or 22.

We recommend that the History course be taken sophomore year and Political Science 41., senior year.

11. The Government of the United States.
A general introductory course which deals with our national or federal government and our state governments, their basic theories, formation, structure, powers, and operation. (No prerequisites.) Juniors by permission. Primarily for Sophomores and Freshmen.
Assistant Professor Bogart.

21. Local Government and Administration in the United States.
The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the problems of local government and administration in the United States. (Political Science 11. or permission.) Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.
Assistant Professor Robbins.

22. Comparative Government.
A description and analysis of several governments of the world, selected to give a comparison of the various political theories and practices of significance today. The comparison includes consideration of the differences between democratic and authoritarian states. (Political Science 11.) Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.
Assistant Professor Bogart.

[31. Business Law.]
A practical course in everyday and legal business relationships. (No prerequisites.) Seniors and Juniors by permission.

33. Public Administration.
An introduction to the field of administration. The course will include a study of principles involved, followed by an analysis of various problems encountered. An attempt will be made to indicate similarities between administration in public jurisdictions and private operations. (Political Science 11.) Seniors and Juniors.
Assistant Professor Bogart.

41. The United States Constitution and Constitutional Law.
A detailed study will be made in this course of the United States Constitution and its growth and development, with special attention to its interpretation by the Supreme Court. The study will be made chiefly by the case method. (Political Science 11.) Seniors and Juniors by permission.
Assistant Professor Robbins.

[42. International Government.]

43. Political and Legislative Problems of the United States.
A study of political forces and movements in the United States and an analysis of legislation and a study of the actual making of laws. (Political Science 11.) Seniors and Juniors.
Assistant Professor Robbins.

†On Leave.

44. Problems in Government.
A seminar course for Seniors of high standing, by permission.
Assistant Professors Bogart and Robbins.

SOCIOLOGY

Professor Sholes

Associate Professor Prentice

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 21.1, .2; 41.1, 41.2 or 31.2; 45, History 32, Education 22.2.

21.1 The Principles of Society.
An introductory course dealing with the behavior of men in groups. Group action. Interrelations. Basic processes. Culture. Personality. Social interaction. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores.
Book and trip fee, $5.

21.2 Contemporary Social Problems.
A continuation of the study of society by means of its problems. Social change. Health. Crime. Race. Wealth. Population. City and rural conditions. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores.
Book and trip fee, $5.

Social Psychology. (See Education and Psychology 22.2.)
Book and trip fee, $5.

[31.1 Rural Society.]
A study of the basic society that has grown up on the land and in the small towns. The community. The neighborhood. The family. Institutions. Social and economic problems peculiar to the rural groups. Seniors, Juniors. (Sophomores by permission.)
Book and trip fee, $5.

31.2 Urban Society.
A study of the society that has developed in the urban centers. The neighborhood. The ethnic groups. Politics. Religion. Education. Recreation. Welfare. The changing economic and social conditions peculiar to the urban group. Seniors, Juniors. (Sophomores by permission.)
Book and trip fee, $5.

Social History. (See History 32.)
Associate Professor Prentice.

41.1 The Family.
A study of the fundamental unit of society. Pattern. History. Change. Problems. Adjustments. Function. (Sociology 21.1 and .2 and permission.) Seniors and Juniors.
Book and trip fee, $5.

[41.2 Criminology.]
A study of crime as the response to general culture by certain individuals. The criminal. Criminal personality. Environment. Heredity. Treatment. Prevention. Alternates with Soc. 31.2.
Book and trip fee, $5.

[42.1 Social Welfare.]
A study of the history, concepts, methods and scope of social welfare work. Primarily for those who will enter the field of social work. Seniors. (Juniors by permission.)
Book and trip fee, $5.

45. Social Efficiency.
A seminar course for senior sociology majors. Social theory, institutions, movements, progress and achievement.

Book and trip fee, $5 per semester.

SPANISH

Professor Centeno†
Assistant Professor Martin
Instructor

Courses required for Comprehensive Examination: 31.; 40.; 41.; 42.; 43.; 44. (when given).

11. Elementary Spanish.
Reading of simple Spanish; oral practice based on the reading text; grammar taught inductively; careful vocabulary building. Spanish is used as the principal means of communication. This course is designed to equip the student with a solid foundation for the more advanced study of spoken and literary Spanish.
Professor Centeno and Assistant Professor Martin.

21. Second Year Spanish.
A continuation of oral practice with a review and more extended treatment of grammar. The subject matter of the text consists of realia of the Spanish-speaking countries. Outside reading of Spanish newspapers and magazines. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 11. or two years of high school Spanish.)
Assistant Professor Martin.

31.1 Conversational Spanish.
A review of grammar, oral practice based on idiomatic texts and selections of the best Spanish authors, and exercises in free composition. The purpose of this course is to give the student a good command of spoken and written Spanish. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 21.)
Assistant Professor Martin.

31.2 Spanish Composition.
A practical course in the fundamentals of composition; exercises in syntax, construction of sentences, paraphrasing from Spanish texts, study of synonyms and antonyms and free composition. (Spanish 31.1.)
Professor Centeno.

40. Survey of Spanish Literature.
A general survey course of Spanish literature from the Middle Ages to the end of the Nineteenth Century, including representative novels, plays, and poetry. Lectures and reports by the students on assigned reading. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 31.1, .2.)
Professor Centeno.

41.1 Literature of the Golden Age.
An intensive study of the great Classical period. Reading of the chief authors and representative works. Lectures, collateral reading, class discussions, written and oral reports. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 31.1, .2.)
Professor Centeno.

†On leave first semester.

41.2 Contemporary Spanish Theatre.
A survey of the principal Spanish playwrights of today, with a special study of their representative works. Oral discussions and written composition. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 31.1.) (Permission.)
Assistant Professor Martin.

42.1 The Modern Spanish Novel.
A study of modern Spanish novelists with particular emphasis on the XIX Century, with a special study of their representative works. Oral discussions and written composition. Conducted in Spanish. (Permission.)
Professor Centeno.

42.2 Contemporary Spanish Novel.
A study of contemporary Spanish novelists with particular emphasis on the relation of literature to the social and intellectual life of present-day Spain. Oral discussions and written composition. Conducted in Spanish. (Spanish 31.1.) (Permission.)
Professor Centeno.

GRADUATE WORK

Middlebury College provides courses in certain departments for students desiring to pursue a Master's degree. The departments offering graduate work are listed under paragraph 15. Correspondence should be directed to Prof. Harry G. Owen, Chairman of the Committee on Graduate Work.*

The degrees of Master of Arts and of Master of Science may be attained by graduate work completed during the regular college year, or at the Summer Sessions, in accordance with the following regulations:

1. The candidate must have a baccalaureate degree from this College, or from another institution whose course of study and requirements for graduation are approved by the Committee on Graduate Work.

2. To obtain the degree of Master of Arts, or Master of Science, one full year in residence and the completion of work equivalent to thirty semester hours will be necessary. This requirement of residence may also be met by attendance at the Summer Sessions. Not more than eight semester hours may be secured at a single Summer Session; and not more than six semester hours in a European Section of the Summer Session.

3. To obtain either of the advanced degrees two-thirds of the required work must be completed at Middlebury College.

4. Graduate work done in other institutions, and presented for transfer credit towards the Middlebury Master's degree, must be acceptable towards the same degree at the institution where the work was done.

5. Candidates should register during the first week of either semester, or during the first week of the Summer Session. A renewal of all existing registrations must be made at the beginning of each college year.

6. The major work of the candidate must be undertaken in some department in which there have been completed undergraduate courses of study of such advanced grade as to satisfy the department of the student's fitness to enter upon graduate work.

7. Candidates for the Master's degree shall present to the Committee on Graduate Work for its approval a statement of the intended course of study, with the written approval of the head of the department in which the major work is to be undertaken.

8. All applications to raise undergraduate courses to graduate level should be presented, with statements covering the additional work involved, to the Graduate Committee before the end of the registration period. No student will be permitted to register in such courses without the written approval of the Chairman of the Graduate Committee to the Head of the Department concerned.

9. Two-thirds of the required work must consist of graduate courses in the department of the major; the remaining one-third may consist of cognate courses of graduate grade prescribed by the department in which the major work is undertaken. A minimum grade of 80 per cent. shall be maintained in all courses counting towards the degree.

10. Graduates of Middlebury College who have to their credit graduate courses taken in undergraduate years and not counted toward the baccalaureate degree may, subject to the approval of the head of the department concerned, count ten semester hours toward an advanced degree, provided these courses are in subjects related to the

*All candidates for graduate work are urged to secure in advance of registration approval for their programs

(a) from the head of the department in which their major work is pursued,

(b) from the Chairman of the Graduate Committee.

department in which the major work for the advanced degree is to be done. Subject to the same requirements, graduates of other recognized colleges may count toward the Middlebury degree ten semester hours of graduate courses completed in undergraduate years and not counted toward the baccalaureate degree.

11. No courses counted in conferring a first degree at Middlebury College, or elsewhere, shall be accepted for a second degree.

12. A Senior who has satisfied all the requirements for the baccalaureate degree at the end of the first semester may continue his study towards the Master's degree during the second semester. Such a student shall be considered a graduate student and his program of study must conform to the regulations governing graduate work.

13. The degree shall be conferred either at the Commencement or at the Summer Session following the completion of the work.

14. The regular tuition fees for undergraduate work are charged. An additional fee of $15 is required for the final examination and the diploma.

15. Under certain conditions, the following departments will offer graduate work. Prospective candidates should in each case correspond directly with the head of the department concerning specific details: American Literature, Economics, English, German, History, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Sociology, and Spanish.

THE DOCTORATE IN MODERN LANGUAGES

Besides the Master's degree, the Middlebury Summer Schools of French, Spanish, and German now offer an advanced degree: The Doctorate in Modern Languages (D.M.L.), full details concerning which may be found in the Summer School bulletins of the Schools concerned. The principal requirements are:

1. The Master's degree with a language major from some recognized university.

2. Residence at the Summer Sessions of Middlebury College equivalent to five-year courses of thirty credits. This will ordinarily require four summers' residence at Middlebury, but the basis of the requirement is chiefly the fulfillment of a program, not merely a given total of points. The student will be required to complete the main lines or groups of our curriculum—Stylistics, Phonetics, Realia, Teaching Methods, Literature, and Philology. A minimum of twenty credits over and above the credits necessary for the M.A. must be secured in residence at Middlebury; a maximum of ten credits may be transferred.

3. Two semesters' residence in the foreign country of the major language. This time should be spent in study in approved courses amounting to or equivalent to twelve hours a week (or 24 semester hours) of class exercises. The work must be done according to a plan previously approved by the Dean of the respective School, and the final results must also be approved by him. Work done in a foreign country prior to the student's enrollment as a candidate for the D.M.L. cannot be accepted. Summer Sessions may not be substituted for the requirement of two semesters' foreign residence.

4. A major language (French, Spanish or German).

a. A thorough knowledge of and the ability to use the spoken and written language, tested by an oral and written examination.

b. A thorough study of and training in phonetics. Candidates will be required to do at least one summer's work in the phonetics laboratory, and to write a report on their research.

c. A scientific study of modern methods of teaching foreign languages. Note: Besides attendance in the courses of methods at Middlebury, candidates will be required to teach at least one year under supervision. Statements will be requested from superintendents of schools, heads of departments, and others as to the success of the candidate's teaching and professional ability. No student will be granted the D.M.L. who cannot be unqualifiedly recommended as an experienced and successful teacher of the language.

5. A final oral examination conducted entirely in the major language, before a board including native members of the faculty; this examination to cover all elements of the candidate's preparation—phonetics, pedagogy, literature, etc. (This training should include a certain amount of philological preparation—Old French or Old Spanish, Phonology, Morphology, etc., but these subjects should be studied not in se and per se, but always with the idea of the help they may afford to the knowledge and teaching of the modern languages.)

6. A minor language (preferably another Romance Language). This will be tested by an oral and written examination. The candidate's knowledge of the language should be sufficient at least to teach successfully the elementary courses in the language. In addition, a reading knowledge of German will be required, as a guarantee of the ability to use German texts or editions.

7. A dissertation written in the major language. This dissertation, which should approximate 35,000 words, is intended to prove a thorough and understanding study of some subject, literary, phonetic, or pedagogical, which is worth a careful study. It must embody considerable original work and reflection, must show a mastery of the field, clearness of thought, and must be written in correct and easy style. The subject must be chosen and the preparation continued under the guidance of some member of the Middlebury faculty.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The College has a number of student benefits, many of them given in early years at great self-sacrifice on the part of the donors. The income of these funds is expended exclusively in payment of the tuition, in part, of needy and deserving students of good deportment and application. When the number of students was much smaller, these funds allowed a somewhat more liberal bestowment of beneficiary aid than is now possible. It is not expected that those whose circumstances admit the full payment of college bills will apply for college assistance. It is earnestly desired, however, that, where need requires, those who might not otherwise be able to receive a college education will apply for aid from this source. The College has a long record of special encouragement to those who are obliged to secure an education largely through their own efforts. Incoming students should direct all correspondence concerning scholarships to the Director of Admissions and Personnel, who will furnish blanks for applications. Students already in College should apply to the Dean for such assistance.

Scholarships may be forfeited at any time during the course through negligence or misconduct. If a student fails in any semester to have a passing grade in four courses of which three shall be at least 70 percent grade, any scholarship allowance for that semester is thereby forfeited.

If a student who has had the privilege of a scholarship leaves Middlebury to transfer to another institution, he will be required to pay the full amount of back tuition.

Among the student benefits dispensed by the College is the income from the following funds:

The Charitable Society Fund, $4,012, established in 1832.

The Literary Fund, $740, established in 1835.

The Warren Fund, $3,000, given in 1835 by bequest of Deacon Isaac Warren of Charlestown, Mass., and its income applied in payment of college bills of those who are preparing for the Gospel ministry.

The Subscription of 1852, $25,000.

The Waldo Fund, $10,000, established in 1864 by bequest of Mrs. Catherine E. Waldo of Boston.

The Baldwin Fund, $28,122, received in 1871 from the estate of John C. Baldwin, Esq., of Orange, N. J.

The Fairbanks Scholarships, $2,000, established by Thaddeus Fairbanks, Esq., of St. Johnsbury.

The Levi Parsons Scholarships, established by Hon. Levi T. Parsons Morton of New York City.

The Daniel O. Morton Scholarship, established by Hon. Levi Parsons Morton of New York City.

The Penfield Scholarship, $1,000, established by Allen Penfield, Esq., of Burlington.

The Charles A. Field Scholarship, $300, given by the village of Proctor, Vt., "as a memorial of regard for Fletcher Dutton Proctor and of gratitude to him, and for courtesies received at the hands of other residents of said village."

The Bezelial Smith Fund, $1,000, established in 1893.

The A. P. Stafford Fund, $1,000, established "to assist needy students from Wallingford to an education."

The New Jersey Student Aid Fund, $400, for boys from New Jersey.

The John A. Howe Scholarships, $3,000, bequeathed by John A. Howe, Esq., class of 1853; the income first available for his descendants, and then under certain conditions for students from Poultney.

The Windham County Congregational Conference Scholarship, $600.

The Asa Wheelock Scholarships Fund, $5,000, established under the will of Charles B. R. Hazeltine of Arlington, Mass., the income first available for students from the town of Wardsboro, Vt., and then from other small country towns in the State.

The Jonathan Coleman Southmayd Scholarship Fund, $8,000, established by Hon. Redfield Proctor, in 1922, its income first available for students (men or women) from Proctor.

The Agnes Warner Sunderland Fund, $3,000, established by Edwin S. S. Sunderland, Esq., class of 1911, the income from which is first available for the assistance of students (men or women) from Cornwall.

The Charles B. R. Hazeltine Fund, $14,043, established in 1923 "for assisting worthy students."

The John W. Rowell Fund, $2,000, established by the late Chief Justice Rowell.

The President's Purse, $10,000, established by Mr. Charles M. Swift, the income to be disbursed at the discretion of the President.

A Friend's Fund, $189, to assist young men having the Christian ministry of the Methodist or Congregational Church in view.

The Ludger J. Tousant Fund, $315, established by the class of 1920 in memory of their classmate—Ludger J. Tousant—killed in the World War.

The James M. Tyler Fund, $1,000, for students from Vermont.

The William W. Gay Fund, $5,000, established in 1929 by the gift of Mrs. Frederic F. Van de Water, Jr., in memory of her father, William W. Gay, class of 1876.

The Herbert K. Twitchell Fund, $2,000, established in 1929 by a bequest received under the will of Mr. Twitchell for students from Vermont, preferably Addison County.

The Cornelia W. Bailey Fund, $33,500, established in 1929 under her will for students of the Protestant faith, residing in Vermont.

The Wilfred E. Davison Scholarship Fund, $1,632, established in 1936 by bequest of Frank P. Davison of Cabot, Vermont.

Music Scholarship. Offered by the "A Tempo" Club for one year's study in a practical course in music.

The total annual income available for scholarships from vested funds approximates $8,000.

The Dutton Fellowship, established in 1926 by Hon. Redfield Proctor for five years, was continued in 1932 with revisions made by the original donor. The Fellowship now provides $1,200 to $1,500, according to the conditions of the time and the estimated requirements. In any given year it may be awarded to a man or woman as the Scholarship Committee may consider best, but over a period of years a majority of the recipients will be men. The Fellowship shall be used to defray, so far as possible, the expenses for one year of post-graduate study in some institution in Europe approved by the committee. The recipient shall have a definite program and be regularly enrolled in classes for at least a majority of their time in Europe.

The basis for award is similar to that of the Rhodes Scholarships, high standing being considered in connection with College leadership and interest in out-door sports and life. It is understood that this year of graduate work shall not be toward a professional career, such as Law, Medicine or Theology. The judges consist of one member of the trustees chosen by the trustees, one member of the faculty chosen by the faculty, and the President of the College.

Awarded in 1938 to Donald Herbert Westin.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

The College receives from the State of Vermont an annual appropriation of $7,200 for the payment to the amount of $120 annually of the tuition and incidental college charges of sixty students, two being appointed each year by each Senator in the General Assembly, from his respective county, provided any suitable candidate should apply therefor; otherwise from any county in the State.

Any Vermont student desiring to take advantage of a State scholarship should apply to one of the Senators of the county in which he resides, and the Senator may thereupon give him a certificate of appointment. Should the Senators in the applicant's county already have made appointments, the student should immediately apply to the Dean, as there may be a vacancy from some other county of which the applicant may avail himself. Incoming Freshmen should make such application to the Director of Admissions.

The same regulations as to forfeiture through misconduct, poor scholarship, or unsatisfactory attendance apply to State scholarships as to student benefits owned by the College.

SPECIAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR RESIDENTS OF VERMONT

Ten scholarships of $1,000 each for the four-year course ($250 a year) were established in 1930, subject to the conditions stated below, based on the general plan of the Rhodes Scholarships, and given to male residents of Vermont who show greatest promise in: qualities of manhood, force of character and leadership; literary and scholastic ability and attainments; and physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

The school record and personal references from principal and other citizens of standing in the community are considered in making the selection. All applicants (unless otherwise advised by the committee) come to Middlebury for scholastic aptitude test, general intelligence examination, and personal interview with the committee of selection, which consists of the President, two members of the Board of Trustees, the Dean and the Director of Admissions. The scholarship is tenable for four consecutive years subject to the maintenance of a high standing and a general record in College which is satisfactory to the committee. Application should be made to Mr. H. T. Emmons, Associate Director of Admissions, on or before April 15.

GEORGE W. ELLIS FELLOWSHIPS

Two fellowships, each with an annual value of $1,600, were established at Columbia University in 1931, under a provision in the will of George W. Ellis, to be open primarily to residents of Vermont or to the graduates of Middlebury, Norwich, and the University of Vermont.

The fellowships are awarded to qualified men or women for pursuing advanced or graduate study in any of the faculties or schools at Columbia. Information on this fellowship may be secured from Prof. H. G. Owen.

STUDENT LOAN FUNDS

The College has received at various times funds for the purpose of making loans to students. Loans are made from these funds in moderate amounts for a limited time, when circumstances and conditions warrant, and in accord with the terms thereof. The funds are as follows:

General Student Loan Fund, $16,350, the aggregate of gifts from friends to be used in making loans to students, originating with a gift from Prof. Wm. W. Eaton of $25 in 1911.

Hazeltine Student Loan Fund, $2,500, received in 1923 under the will of Chas. B. R. Hazeltine and his sister, Harriet S. Hazeltine, of Arlington, Mass., "The income only to be used as a loan fund in assisting students in Middlebury College."

Elam R. Jewett Student Loan Fund, $3,000, received in 1923 from a friend, "The principal to be safely invested, the income and accretions to be loaned, under certain conditions, to men students of the College." By such accretions the fund now amounts to $3,600.

William H. Porter Student Loan Fund, $10,000, an unconditional legacy received in 1927 under the will of William H. Porter of New York. By action of the Trustees it was made the William H. Porter Student Loan Fund, the principal to be safely invested and kept intact, the interest therefrom and accretions thereto to be used for making loans to worthy students of the Men's College from Vermont—first consideration being given to those from Addison County.

Joel B. Harris Student Loan Fund, $23,000, made available in 1937 under an annuity contract with Charles P. Harris, for the benefit of students of the Men's College.

PRIZES

The Parker Prizes. Established by gift of Daniel Parker, Esquire, in 1807 and Prof. Frederick Hall in 1820. Prizes to men of the Junior class, members of the Speech course, who are adjudged best speakers in a contest held at some time during the year. The amounts of the Prizes will be determined on the basis of the income from the fund. The gross minimum for these prizes in the past has been $50.

The Merrill Prizes. Established in 1882 by bequest of Rev. Thomas Abbott Merrill, D.D., Trustee, 1806-55. Four awards, $30, $20, $15 and $10 to the four men of the Sophomore class, members of the Speech courses, adjudged the best speakers in a contest.

The Deacon Boardman Peace Prize. Established in memory of Samuel Ward Boardman (1789-1870). An annual prize of $30 to the member of the Junior class submitting the best essay in favor of peace, and in opposition to war as a method for settling international differences. The essay must be creditable as a literary composition and consist of at least 2,000 words.

The George H. Catlin Classical Prize, $1,000. Established in 1918 by the gift of Mr. George H. Catlin of Scranton, Pa., the income furnishing an annual award to be made to that man in the Senior class whose college work in Greek and Latin is adjudged to be worthiest of the distinction. The awarding committee consists of the head of the Department of Greek, the Head of the Department of Latin and the Dean of the College.

The Kellogg Latin-English Prize. Established by gift of Prof. Brainerd Kellogg, LL.D., Litt. D., of the class of 1858, Trustee, "to encourage Latin and English." Twenty dollars are awarded annually to the two best examination papers on Horace.

Awarded in 1938 to Charles Morton English.

The Wetherell Prizes. As a memorial to Prof. Archibald D. Wetherell, a permanent foundation for the encouragement of debating was established in 1922, through the interest and cooperation of his friends and admirers. The fund now amounts to $1,100, the income from which is awarded annually in prizes to the two men showing the greatest interest and proficiency in debating.

Awarded in 1938 to Glenn Hubert Leggett, Jr., First; Edward Josland Drew, Second.

The Edwin Winship Lawrence Prizes. Established in memory of the donor's father George Edwin Lawrence, of the class of 1867. A first prize of $25, a second prize of $15 and a third prize of $10 will be awarded annually to the three students who in the judgment of the English Department of Middlebury College exhibit the most proficiency in debating.

The same donor has given a fund to provide prizes of $25, $15 and $10 for the best debaters in the annual Middlebury College-University of Vermont debate, the winners to be the best three from the two teams.

Awarded in 1938 to Glenn Hubert Leggett, Jr., First; Edward Josland Drew, Second; William Albert Onion, Third.

The Hazeltine-Klevenow Cup, awarded to the student having best combined ability in athletics with excellence in scholarship; the choice to be made from the entire student body; the name of the recipient to be placed on the cup annually as a permanent record; and a replica of the cup to be presented at the time of announcement.

Awarded in 1938 to John Chalmers.

The Kappa Delta Rho Cup, presented annually to the student most loyal to the ideals of Middlebury College. The award is based on extra-curricular activities, both athletic and non-athletic, scholarship and character.

Awarded in 1938 to Milton Kuhlthau Lins.

The Woolsey Prize, established by the late Col. Theodore S. Woolsey, Jr., B.A., M.F., 1933. Two twenty-five dollar prizes will be awarded to the two undergraduates writing the best examination in Bible.

Clement Prize. Middlebury Juniors and Seniors are eligible to compete with entrants from a specified group of other colleges and universities for the best thesis on the United States Constitution. Details are furnished by the head of the Political Science Department.

Bishop Atwood Historical Prize Fund, $250. (1938), for the establishment of a fund for a prize in history.

THE ASSOCIATED ALUMNI

The Associated Alumni, one of the oldest organizations of its type in America, was established in 1824 and has had a continuous existence since that year. In addition to the social purposes, the organization aims to encourage active interest in the life of the College and to give material assistance in the forwarding of plans and projects of the Administration. The first separate Alumnae Association was started in 1912. Alumni and alumnae hold district meetings together in some cities, separately in other localities.

The business of the Associated Alumni is conducted through Edgar J. Wiley, Secretary, from whom biographical information and addresses may be obtained. The official publication for graduates is the NEWS LETTER, published quarterly. Annual meetings are held during Commencement Week at the College.

The division of Districts is as follows:

REGION No. 1

a. Middlebury District—Northeastern New York State, Vermont (except the southernmost portion), and northern New Hampshire. District Center, Middlebury.

b. Boston District—Maine, southeastern New Hampshire, eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. District Center, Boston.

c. Springfield District—Massachusetts east of the Berkshire County line and west of the cities of Fitchburg and Worcester, southwestern New Hampshire, and southeastern Vermont. District Center, Springfield.

REGION No. 2

a. New Haven District—Connecticut east of towns of Westport and Wilton. District Center, New Haven.

b. Albany District—Eastern New York state, southwestern Vermont, Berkshire County in Massachusetts. District Center, Albany.

c. New York City District—New York City, New Jersey, parts of New York State contiguous, and that part of Connecticut west of Westport and Wilton.

REGION No. 3

a. Buffalo District—Remainder of New York State, Ohio. District Center, Buffalo.

b. Washington District—Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Southern States to the Mississippi. District Center, Washington.

c. Chicago (Western) District—Remainder of the United States and all foreign countries. District Center, Chicago.

BUILDING PROGRAM

The building plan for the men's college is designed to accommodate a maximum of 500 men. Classrooms, dormitories, and the gymnasium now in use were constructed to take care of a much smaller enrollment. Since the attendance is rapidly approaching the maximum, immediate physical additions are imperative, as well as a considerable increase in endowment.

INDOOR FIELD—$150,000. The present gymnasium was built in 1912 to accommodate some 300 students. Nearly every year since then the student body has increased and the facilities have become correspondingly inadequate and outmoded.

RECITATION BUILDING—$200,000. Since 1920 the college has doubled in size, but no corresponding additions in classroom facilities have been made. In the view of the Administration, the recitation building is the most immediate need of the college.

MEN'S DORMITORY—$200,000. Too large a proportion of the freshman class is now rooming in the town because of the lack in dormitory accommodations. This presents serious problems of student assimilation.

REPAIR OF OLD CHAPEL—$100,000. Most of the administrative offices are located in dormitories or in the town. Old Chapel is the building best suited for offices but because of crowded conditions it is now used primarily for classrooms.

REPAIR OF STARR HALL—$100,000. The reconstruction of Starr Hall should be one of the first construction projects but because of the lack of rooms, it cannot be done until there is another dormitory.

STARR LIBRARY ADDITIONS—$50,000. Additional stacks as well as reading rooms are needed to accommodate the current and anticipated enrollment and the increase in volumes.

FORMS OF BEQUEST

The corporate title of Middlebury College is "The President and Fellows of Middlebury College."

The following forms are suggested:

I give and bequeath to "The President and Fellows of Middlebury College," a corporation of the State of Vermont, the sum of ———————— dollars, to be used by the Trustees of said College for such purposes and in such manner as they shall deem appropriate.

I give and bequeath to "The President and Fellows of Middlebury College," a corporation of the State of Vermont, the sum of ———————— dollars, to be invested by the Trustees of said College, and the income thereof to be applied to the uses of said College in accordance with the terms of its charter.
